Martin Morrissey, of Hanover township, says that Patrick McGee took an acre of land from him and wants the court to give him judgment for $100. The farms of the parties adjoin and Morrissey says that McGee tore down the line fence and moved it.

A bill of exceptions was filed today in the case of Nettie Ramsey vs. Andrew Ramsey, of Elk Run township, and the case is now in circuit court. The action is that in which the daughter recently recovered judgment against her father for $624 for caring for him.

OFFICERS HAD A LONG CHASE

Mrs. Lucille Dill, Who Assaulted Mrs. William Price, Proved to Be a Good Sprinter.

CAPTURED AT SMITH'S FERRY

The Woman Says She Assaulted Mrs. Price Because She Had Made Love to Mr. Dill—Charged With Assault With Intent to Kill.

The chase given the female assailant of Mrs. William Price Tuesday afternoon, in which the patrolmen and several police took part, terminated victoriously for the officers, although the fugitive proved to be a sprinter of no mean ability. Not until she had made her way to Smith's Ferry was she overtaken, and perhaps the woman would not then have been captured had it not been for a clever bit of strategetic work on the part of her pursuers.

By the time the officers were notified of the assault the woman had passed through the East End, and had a good start on those following her. Officers Thompson, Dawson and Stafford started afot and Patrolmen Woods and Bryan followed with the wagon. It was learned the woman was headed toward Smith's Ferry and the "scouts" made rapid headway for that place.

On nearing the outskirts of the village, the fleeing female was sighted making her way for the bridge at the state line. The policemen by taking across the fields succeeded in reaching the bridge ahead of the woman. For a moment she stood still, apparently experiencing a feeling of chagrin at being baffled in her effort to get across the bridge, but turning suddenly she started back down the road toward the town.

In the meantime the patrolmen had reached the scene and with the assistance of J. M. Pelley, a street car motorman, the woman was captured and landed in the wagon. She had no weapons and made no effort to fight the officers, although she was worked up into a mad frenzy when told she was to be taken to jail.

At the city the woman gave her name as Lucille Dill. When asked why she committed the assault on Mrs. Price, she said she did it because the woman had made love to Mr. Dill and had once kissed him.

Late Tuesday evening the husband of the Italian woman came to the jail carrying an infant child in his arms. He also had another two-year-old child and a 16-year-old boy with him, which he desired to turn over to the mother. He was permitted to give the infant to the woman, but the other children were not allowed to remain.

The husband, whose name is Carmen Dill, and whose home is on Pennsylvania avenue, says he can give no reason for his wife's actions. He ridiculed her allegations as to his having made love to Mrs. Price, and says his wife has become jealous of him without cause. He alleges that she is mentally unsound and has a mania for committing assault. Dill declares that his better half was twice arrested in Italy for crime identical with that for which she must now answer.

As yet no affidavit has been filed against Mrs. Dill but it is the intention of Mrs. Price to prosecute her assailant on the charge of assault with intent to kill. Mayor Davidson called Tuesday night at the Price home and found the injured woman resting easily. Though the wounds are of a severe nature, it is not thought they are necessarily dangerous.

Mrs. Dill, previous to making the attack on Mrs. Price, made preparations for leaving the city, and when found at Smith's Ferry she had her husband's pocketbook containing $17, which, he asserts, his wife stole from him. At police headquarters Dill told the officers he was penniless and that there was nothing to eat at his home.

A portion of the money was turned over to him.

Mrs. Dill expected to board the east-bound train Tuesday evening and start for New York. She admits it was her purpose to leave her infant, and expressed regret that she did not accomplish what she had planned to do.

GEO. H. OWEN & CO.'S BIG DEAL IN REAL ESTATE.

Valuable East End Property Passes Into the Possession of George Peach & Son.

Geo. H. Owen & Co. this morning concluded an important land sale, disposing of 33 lots in the heart of the East End, to George Peach & Son. The lots are in the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson addition and lie near Pennsylvania avenue. They are centrally located and well located for residential purposes and will be sold off by their new owners. The consideration is in the neighborhood of $12,000, and the transaction was a cash one.

This is among the biggest sales of this class of property for months. East End land, as in other parts of the city, is in demand and is rapidly increasing in value.

VIOLENT DOG

Attacked a Traveling Man And Bit Him Severely—Damage Suit Threatened.

K. K. Mitchell, a traveling man of Cleveland, was attacked Tuesday night in Locust alley by a vicious dog. The brute sprang at the man without warning, and before it could be driven off, sank its teeth into the flesh of Mr. Mitchell's left leg.

The injured man went at once to a surgeon and had the wound dressed. He then made his way to the city hall in search of an officer. Police-men Stafford and Davidson were appealed to and asked to dispatch the dog, but they refused to do so until the mayor had first given them the authority.

The drummer became indignant and threatened to bring suit against the city, but despite his protests the dog was not killed. Mitchell left this morning for his home.

A CLUE TO IDENTITY

Of the Dead Man Found at Walker's Believed He Was Drowned at North Industry.

From a description which has been received in this city from Pittsburgh of the three men who were drowned at North Industry last winter as the result of being run down in a skiff by a tow boat, it is thought the corpse found at Walker's yesterday was that of one of the missing men.

His clothing and description tallies with that given of one of the men, and as the body had been in the water a great length of time, it is believed there is little doubt of the man being one of the three who met death at North Industry.

A GIRL MISSING FROM HER HOME

Bertha Frank, Formerly of This City, Is Thought to Have Drowned Herself.

SAY TO HAVE MADE THREATS

Brooding Over Trouble With Her Lover—She Formerly Worked in a Pottery in East Liverpool, But Latterly Resided in Evansville, Ind.

Bertha Frank formerly of this city, is thought to have committed suicide at Evansville, Ind., last Saturday. Miss Frank formerly worked in a pottery here and has several relatives in this city.

Miss Frank had been employed at the Goodwin clothing store in Evansville for several years. She went to work as usual Saturday morning and seemed in the best of spirits.

At noon the girl's mother sent her dinner to her. The brother of the girl took the meal to the girl and when he left the building she kissed him goodbye.

Evening came and the girl did not come home. The parents were alarmed but did not say anything to the neighbors about the actions of their daughter, thinking she would surely come back the next morning. Sunday morning came and still no Bertha returned and the parents became greatly alarmed and notified the police of the disappearance of their daughter and asked them to assist in finding her.

When Bertha left the Goodwin manufacturing plant Saturday she was alone, and if she started in the direction of the river no one saw her. Late in the evening, however, a girl answering to her description was seen standing on the river bank at the foot of Fulton avenue. Two men passed down the river in a skiff and noticed the girl standing close to the water. It was too dark to get a good look at the girl and the men not thinking anything wrong, did not pull ashore.

For the past week Bertha has been on the outs with her lover and it is believed she brooded over the affair, although she seemed happy at home and was kind to her parents.

One of the girl's friends assert that Bertha said a day or two before her disappearance that she was going to end her existence by jumping in the river.

The brother of the missing girl went along the river in the vicinity of Fulton avenue Sunday afternoon and Sunday night, but he could find no trace of his sister.

The Frank girl left home about two years ago and was gone about a week when she turned up all right. She remained at the home of a relative during her absence. The parents of the missing girl are broken-hearted.

The local team is practicing daily and expect to have a walk-over when they meet the "farmers," as they call the Industry boys. It is said the Industry boys are very clever in the field, however, and the contest promises to be a lively one.

FISH TOO TAME.

Therefore the East End Waltons Brought Back No Basketfuls.

That fishing party that spent yesterday on Beaver creek returned late in the evening and sought the rear doors of their respective homes. One of them was interviewed this morning, but he had nothing to say. He explained to a friend, however, that the reason they came back empty-handed was because the fish were too tame to bite.

"Why," said he, "I pushed one big sucker off a rock with my pole and he just sank down to the side of it and wouldn't move until I tried to catch him with my hand and then he just barely kept out of the way."

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION.

A YEAR OF PROSPERITY

What Has Been Accomplished at St. Stephen's Church in Twelve Months.

Arthur Underwood, secretary of the vestry of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, made the following report at the annual meeting:

"The treasurer's report manifests in figures the work accomplished. In compliance with the choice of the congregation we have erected the new church building since the last annual parish meeting. The first stone of the foundation was put in place on the 15th day of May, 1900, by the rector. There was present at the service a few of the parishioners, and on the 7th day of June the corner-stone was laid by the bishop of the diocese in the presence of a large concourse of people. The work was rapidly pushed and brought to a final completion in December and was dedicated by the bishop of the diocese on St. Stephen's day, December 26, thus completing this gigantic work in less than 12 months.

"We now have the satisfaction of feeling justly proud of possessing one of the finest church buildings in the diocese. May it prove a benediction to us and the community at large. We have also, through the efforts of the rector, been the recipients of a very handsome pipe organ, donated by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. The organ will be placed in position as soon as possible and will, when so placed, fully complete in every detail the magnificent structure in which it is our privilege to worship.

"The amount of labor in detail necessary for the construction of so extensive a building has called the vestry together at thirty sessions, of which there were nineteen special meetings. These meetings have been—notwithstanding the anxiety about doing what was best for the interest of the congregation—a source of pleasure as well as profitable to us all.

"It is our sad duty to report the death of one of our brother vestrymen, William Baggott, the senior member of the vestry for many years, a most faithful worker for the church. His loss has been felt and will continue to be for some long time. May all church people emulate his example and prove faithful to the end.

"In conclusion we beg to impress upon the members of the congregation the fact that from now on, the vestry are coming face to face with greater responsibilities than before, with the large church and increased expenses connected therewith. Yet we feel confident that the loyal patronage of the past few years will not diminish but increase, and all, we pray, will come forward and strengthen the hands of the vestry by liberally supporting the general fund of the church, so as to meet the obligations of the parish."

ACTIVITY IN N. P. STOCKS.

Extraordinary Demand For That Stock Continued Tuesday—Supposition as to Reason.

New York, May 8.—Tuesday's stock market showed all the gradations of sentiment, from buoyant elation at the opening to disorderly alarm, verging on demoralization, in the latter part of the day. The market hinged almost entirely on Northern Pacific. The extraordinary demand for that stock continued, and it almost duplicated Monday's rise, advancing an extreme  $22\frac{1}{4}$ , compared with  $23$  Monday. In the early dealings this strength retained a part of its sympathetic influence. The reason for the rise exerting depressing influence on the rest of the market was shrouded in as much mystery as the whole movement has been. As the day drew toward the close rumors began to gain currency that the enormous demand for this stock of the last two days was the result of a desperate effort to regain control on the part of insiders. The supposition is that the recent effort to secure control of Union Pacific led to a retaliatory movement on the part of the powerful capitalists who control Union Pacific to embarrass the Northern Pacific interests with an enforced contest to maintain their control. The success of the plan must be admitted, if such a struggle is really the cause of the buying in Northern Pacific. The brokers employed in the buying serve as some corroboration for such a supposition. A house which was credited with buying 200,000 shares Monday was a buyer of tens of thousands of shares Tuesday, and was at the same time lending out the stock for the benefit of the shorts to an amount estimated at 100,000 shares, thus striving to allay the alarm of the short interest, and thus discouraging the hypothesis that the buying movement was designed for a squeeze against the shorts. The appearances rather went to show that the short interest was among the insiders. The presumptions which might flow from the fact of such a struggle between great groups of capitalists had a chilling effect on the whole speculation. It would indicate also that the leading financial interest which has been the conspicuous figure in all the recent financial plans had been outgeneralized. There were fears also that the collapse to follow the volatile rise in Northern Pacific would unfavorably effect the whole stock market. The rumors regarding Northern Pacific did not begin to take this form until late in the day. Reports that the preferred stock was to have the option of exchange with the common stock and so doing away with its prior claims sent Northern Pacific preferred up over 10 points.

The higher rate for money and the demands by brokers for larger margins also had a repressive influence on speculation. The late selling was enhanced by the discouragement of timid holders who are only willing to hold on a rise. The break at the last was severe, reaching  $8\frac{1}{2}$  in Northern Pacific,  $8\frac{1}{2}$  in St. Paul,  $8$  in Union Pacific,  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in Rock Island,  $5$  in Baltimore and Ohio and Ohio between  $2$  and  $5$  points in the large majority of the active list. The United States Steel stocks were again under pressure throughout and the current gossip attributed this liquidation to a shifting of holdings from the steel stocks into railroads. Prices closed above the lowest, as bears took quick profits, but the closing undertone continued distinctly weak.

U. S. 5s declined  $\frac{1}{2}$  and the  $38\frac{1}{4}$  per cent on the last call.

HIT IN THE EYE.

Charles Triffard Hurt at Base Ball Practice—Game Arranged With Industry.

Charley Triffard, the shortstop of the Dixonville team, was hit in the left eye with the ball while practicing yesterday and painfully injured. The eye is swollen shut and greatly inflamed. He will be unable to practice again for several days.

The Dixonville team will meet the Industry, Pa., nine at Georgetown next Saturday. The local team is practicing daily and expect to have a walk-over when they meet the "farmers," as they call the Industry boys. It is said the Industry boys are very clever in the field, however, and the contest promises to be a lively one.

FISH TOO TAME.

Therefore the East End Waltons Brought Back No Basketfuls.

That fishing party that spent yesterday on Beaver creek returned late in the evening and sought the rear doors of their respective homes. One of them was interviewed this morning, but he had nothing to say. He explained to a friend, however, that the reason they came back empty-handed was because the fish were too tame to bite.

"Why," said he, "I pushed one big sucker off a rock with my pole and he just sank down to the side of it and wouldn't move until I tried to catch him with my hand and then he just barely kept out of the way."

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION.

Work on the Little Beaver Line Being Pushed.

Work on the extension of the street car line to Little Beaver creek is progressing rapidly. A large quantity of ties and rails are being used daily. The work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

East End Delegates.

Miss Ethel McCain and Miss Maud Woodward attended the County Sunday school convention in Salem. These ladies were sent as delegates from the Second Presbyterian church. They will return to the East End this evening, the work of the convention having been completed.

Bitten by a Horse.

Frank Pittenger, Jr., was bitten by a vicious horse and painfully injured this morning. He was currying the animal when it seized him by the left hand. The member is badly swollen and he will be unable to use it for several days.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Miss Cynthia Fern, of First avenue, is ill.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marshall, a girl.

Miss Carrie Myler, of Dixonville, is ill with the grip.

Clark McClure, of Dixonville, is off duty on account of illness.

The artificial gas plant is being repainted. The work was begun this morning.

The drilling of the water well at the National pottery has been suspended awaiting the arrival of the casing.

William Chambers, who has been ill with typhoid fever, suffered a relapse yesterday and is now in a critical condition.

Mrs. L. A. Vale, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Irwin Allison, for several weeks, returned to her home in Webber, Kansas, this morning.

A YEAR OF PROSPERITY

Arthur Underwood, secretary of the vestry of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, made the following report at the annual meeting:

The treasurer's report manifests in figures the work accomplished. In compliance with the choice of the congregation we have erected the new church building since the last annual parish meeting. The first stone of the foundation was put in place on the 15th day of May, 1900, by the rector. There was present at the service a few of the parishioners, and on the 7th day of June the corner-stone was laid by the bishop of the diocese in the presence of a large concourse of people. The work was rapidly pushed and brought to a final completion in December and was dedicated by the bishop of the diocese on St. Stephen's day, December 26, thus completing this gigantic work in less than 12 months.

"We now have the satisfaction of feeling justly proud of possessing one of the finest church buildings in the diocese. May it prove a benediction to us and the community at large. We have also, through the efforts of the rector, been the recipients of a very handsome pipe organ, donated by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. The organ will be placed in position as soon as possible and will, when so placed, fully complete in every detail the magnificent structure in which it is our privilege to worship.

"The amount of labor in detail necessary for the construction of so extensive a building has called the vestry together at thirty sessions, of which there were nineteen special meetings. These meetings have been—notwithstanding the anxiety about doing what was best for the interest of the congregation—a source of pleasure as well as profitable to us all.

"It is our sad duty to report the death of one of our brother vestrymen, William Baggott, the senior member of the vestry for many years, a most faithful worker for the church. His loss has been felt and will continue to be for some long time. May all church people emulate his example and prove faithful to the end.

"In conclusion we beg to impress upon the members of the congregation the fact that from now on, the vestry are coming face to face with greater responsibilities than before, with the large church and increased expenses connected therewith. Yet we feel confident that the loyal patronage of the past few years will not diminish but increase, and all, we pray, will come forward and strengthen the hands of the vestry by liberally supporting the general fund of the church, so as to meet the obligations of the parish."

ACTIVITY IN N. P. STOCKS.

Extraordinary Demand For That Stock Continued Tuesday—Supposition as to Reason.

New York, May 8.—Tuesday's stock market showed all the gradations of sentiment, from buoyant elation at the opening to disorderly alarm, verging on demoralization, in the latter part of the day. The market hinged almost entirely on Northern Pacific. The extraordinary demand for that stock continued, and it almost duplicated Monday's rise, advancing an extreme  $22\frac{1}{4}$ , compared with  $23$  Monday. In the early dealings this strength retained a part of its sympathetic influence. The reason for the rise exerting depressing influence on the rest of the market was shrouded in as much mystery as the whole movement has been. As the day drew toward the close rumors began to gain currency that the enormous demand for this stock of the last two days was the result of a desperate effort to regain control on the part of insiders. The supposition is that the recent effort to secure control of Union Pacific led to a retaliatory movement on the part of the powerful capitalists who control Union Pacific to embarrass the Northern Pacific interests with an enforced contest to maintain their control. The success of the plan must be admitted, if such a struggle is really the cause of the buying in Northern Pacific. The brokers employed in the buying serve as some corroboration for such a supposition. A house which was credited with buying 200,000 shares Monday was a buyer of tens of thousands of shares Tuesday, and was at the same time lending out the stock for the benefit of the shorts to an amount estimated at 100,000 shares, thus striving to allay the alarm of the short interest, and thus discouraging the hypothesis that the buying movement was designed for a squeeze against the shorts. The appearances rather went to show that the short interest was among the insiders. The presumptions which might flow from the fact of such a struggle between great groups of capitalists had a chilling effect on the whole speculation. It would indicate also that the leading financial interest which has been the conspicuous figure in all the recent financial plans had been outgeneraled. There were fears also that the collapse to follow the volatile rise in Northern Pacific would unfavorably effect the whole stock market. The rumors regarding Northern Pacific did not begin to take this form until late in the day. Reports that the preferred stock was to have the option of exchange with the common stock and so doing away with its prior claims sent Northern Pacific preferred up over 10 points.

The higher rate for money and the demands by brokers for larger margins also had a repressive influence on speculation. The late selling was enhanced by the discouragement of timid holders who are only willing to hold on a rise. The break at the last was severe, reaching  $8\frac{3}{4}$  in Northern Pacific,  $8\frac{1}{2}$  in St. Paul, 8 in Union Pacific,  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in Rock Island, 5 in Baltimore and Ohio and between 2 and 5 points in the large majority of the active list. The United States Steel stocks were again under pressure throughout and the current gossip attributed this liquidation to a shifting of holdings from the steel stocks into railroads. Prices closed above the lowest, as bears took quick profits, but the closing undertone continued distinctly weak.

U. S. 5s declined  $\frac{1}{2}$  and the 3s  $\frac{1}{4}$  per cent on the last call.

A LINE ACROSS OHIO

Electric Railway Projected to Extend All the Way From Cincinnati to Toledo.

A PAST IS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The Line is Intended to Be Standard Gauge and is Expected to Be Built Along the Old Canal From Cincinnati to Toledo, O.

Cleveland, May 8.—The privilege to develop the Miami and Erie canal trolley line from Cincinnati to Toledo, O., recently secured by W. H. Lamprecht and a syndicate of Cleveland capitalists by the Ohio legislature, has been turned over to the Everett-Moore syndicate by means of secret negotiations, which reached a culmination. Lamprecht will be ousted. There is nothing in the charter to prevent the operation of a passenger or freight trolley system along the canal under the original Fordyce grant, and that will be done. Tracks will be standard gauge, and there will be a trolley road clear across Ohio, the longest in the world.

Already the line between Detroit and Toledo is in a forward stage, the Everett-Moore syndicate owning this. The Canal Trolley company, gobbled by Everett, is capitalized at $2,000,000.

HARDENBERGH QUIT.

Resigned From Pennsylvania Senate to Assume Auditor Generalship.

Some Legislative Proceedings.

Harrisburg, May 8.—The order of business in the house Tuesday was senate bills on final passage. Among those passed was this one:

Fixing the salaries of county superintendents of schools at $10 for the first 100 schools within his jurisdiction, $5 for each school above 100, and not over 200, and $2 for each school above 200, provided that the salary shall in no case be less than $1,000 per annum nor more than $2,000, and provided further that in all counties having 12,000 square miles or a school term exceeding seven and a half months the salaries of the superintendents shall not be less than $1,500, and that a convention of school directors may vote him an increase in salary, which shall be taken from the school appropriation of the district.

The house adjourned, about 3 p.m., being the time selected to meet. After reconvening and transacting some business an adjournment was taken, about 8 p.m., being the time selected to meet. At the night session, among the senate bills passed finally, were these:

Providing for an extension of one year of the limitation of time within which application shall be made to the state treasurer for the refunding of collateral inheritance tax paid in error.

Authorizing county commissioners to erect or complete and maintain a monument at the seat of each county in memory of the soldiers and sailors of the late war, so as to authorize the commissioners to pay debts already contracted for and about the erection and maintenance of such a monument and for work done and material furnished.

The house adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

The senate met about 8 o'clock last night and held a brief session. The order of business was the consideration of bills on first and second reading. There were 14 bills on second reading and two on the first reading calendar, and after they had all been read and agreed to the senate adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

Just before the senate adjourned Senator Hardenbergh, of Wayne, who assumed the office of auditor general, sent his resignation and it was read. Mr. Hardenbergh made a brief farewell address, and others made addresses.

MORE SHELTER.

Hungry Fed at Jacksonville—No More Bodies Found—Systematic Search Not Begun.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 8.—The almost superhuman work of the different departments has somewhat relieved the situation and it is now believed that in every instance those without proper food and clothing were in a measure provided for, and that last night there was vastly fewer people who were compelled to sleep upon the streets.

About 200 tents were erected, and while they were very crowded last night and while several churches and school houses in the suburbs also were crowded with sleepers, this condition also may be relieved today by the arrival of about 2,000 tents from the general government at Washington, which Chairman Bours, of the housing committee, will have erected at once. The military companies have been of great assistance to Mr. Bours, with their experience in rapidly erecting tents, and before tonight there may be several tented villages in the city with cots and blankets, and a water supply in almost every village for the sufferers. Today there also may be provided several extra commissary stations in various parts of the city to relieve the situation at the two already established, and likely there may be one in each village of tents. There has been no outbreak of sickness in the city and the several cases of nervous prostration which have been reported are now well on the way to recovery.

Thousands of people have left the city. Those remaining will be able to receive some kind of labor at the bureaus which have been established.

The cleaning up of the streets has been going on rapidly. No more dead bodies were found, though a systematic search had not begun.

THE RED BORETTA.

Martinelli to Receive It Today, Cardinal Gibbons to Represent the Pope.

Baltimore, May 8.—Mgr. Sebastian Martinelli was to receive the red boretta this morning from Cardinal Gibbons, whom Pope Leo has appointed to represent him on that occasion. Monsignor Martinelli arrived yesterday afternoon from Washington. He went direct to St. Mary's seminary, where he is the guest of the Sulpician fathers.

Nearly all the prelates from out of town have arrived, among them Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, and Bishop Murray, of Queensland, Australia. It was expected that 12 of the 14 archbishops and 62 bishops would be present at today's ceremony, and each visiting prelate would be attended by at least one priest.

Last evening a musical and literary entertainment in honor of Mgr. Martinelli was given by the students of St. Mary's seminary. The cardinal-elect made a responsive address.

DEFENDED BLUE LAWS.

Clergymen Opposed Repeal of Features of the Pennsylvania Sunday Laws.

Harrisburg, May 8.—The senate committee on law and order gave a public hearing Tuesday afternoon on the bill repealing certain portions of the Sunday blue laws of 1794. Quite a large delegation of clergymen from different parts of the state was present and protested against the passage of the bill. A number of Philadelphia business men were also in attendance and advocated the repealer. After both sides had been fully heard, Senator Berkelbach, of Philadelphia, who introduced the bill, made a few remarks in defense of his action.

Republicans Carried Baltimore.

Baltimore, May 8.—In the municipal election in this city, the first one of importance held under the new ballot law, the Republicans carried 18 out of the 24 wards, electing 18 members to the first branch of city council and all three candidates for the second branch. Only about 65 per cent of the entire registered vote was polled and the colored vote was very light. Democrats attribute their defeat to factional differences.

China Will Require a Loan.

Pekin, May 8.—China will require the powers to obtain for her a loan sufficient to pay the indemnity as soon as the amount thereof is made known. She will also ask for an extra twenty million taels, to be provided annually according to the proposition of the foreign ministers.

COMPLAINTS BEING MADE.

West Enders Want the Pond on Ball Grounds Drained.

Complaints are already beginning to be filed with Health Officer Burgess by the residents of the West End, asking that the pond of water on the old ball grounds be drained and the low places filled up.

Frogs by the hundreds are making their headquarters in the slimy water, and the stench from the poisonous filth is very obnoxious to those who are forced to inhale the germ-breeding air predominating in that community. The health officer will likely take measures to have the pond drained.

FOR MOTHERS.

The period immediately following child-birth is fraught with many dangers. The strength has been used in the painful ordeal through which the mother has passed and she finds herself helpless and weakened. Many mothers, like Mrs. Ford, date the beginning of their illness from the birth of their child. Indeed the frequent spectacle of a healthy young woman becoming a chronic invalid after motherhood is one of the tragedies of life. All this is unnecessary, when Wine of Cardui is obtainable. It rehabilitates the shattered nervous system, strengthens the organs and ligaments, and re-establishes a healthy, natural condition, saving years of chronic sickness and suffering.

Wine of Cardui taken just before confinement will render the ordeal comparatively painless.

It will re-enforce and strengthen the organs for their work. For every trying crisis in a woman's life, Wine of Cardui is the medicine to take. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui and take no substitute. If one is offered send $1.00 for a bottle to the Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LINE ACROSS OHIO

A PAST IS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The Line is Intended to Be Standard Gauge and is Expected to Be Built Along the Old Canal From Cincinnati to Toledo, O.

Cleveland, May 8.—The privilege to develop the Miami and Erie canal trolley line from Cincinnati to Toledo, O., recently secured by W. H. Lamprecht and a syndicate of Cleveland capitalists by the Ohio legislature, has been turned over to the Everett-Moore syndicate by means of secret negotiations, which reached a culmination. Lamprecht will be ousted. There is nothing in the charter to prevent the operation of a passenger or freight trolley system along the canal under the original Fordyce grant, and that will be done. Tracks will be standard gauge, and there will be a trolley road clear across Ohio, the longest in the world.

Already the line between Detroit and Toledo is in a forward stage, the Everett-Moore syndicate owning this. The Canal Trolley company, gobbled by Everett, is capitalized at $2,000,000.

HARDENBERGH QUITTS.

Resigned From Pennsylvania Senate to Assume Auditor Generalship.

Some Legislative Proceedings.

Harrisburg, May 8.—The order of business in the house Tuesday was senate bills on final passage. Among those passed was this one:

Fixing the salaries of county superintendents of schools at $10 for the first 100 schools within his jurisdiction, $5 for each school above 100, and not over 200 and $2 for each school above 200, provided that the salary shall in no case be less than $1,000 per annum nor more than $2,000, and provided further that in all counties having 12,000 square miles or a school term exceeding seven and a half months the salaries of the superintendents shall not be less than $1,500, and that a convention of school directors may vote him an increase in salary, which shall be taken from the school appropriation of the district.

The house adjourned, about 3 p.m., being the time selected to meet. After reconvening and transacting some business an adjournment was taken, about 8 p.m., being the time selected to meet. At the night session, among the senate bills passed finally, were these:

Providing for an extension of one year of the limitation of time within which application shall be made to the state treasurer for the refunding of collateral inheritance tax paid in error.

Authorizing county commissioners to erect or complete and maintain a monument at the seat of each county in memory of the soldiers and sailors of the late war, so as to authorize the commissioners to pay debts already contracted for and about the erection and maintenance of such a monument and for work done and material furnished.

The house adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

The senate met about 8 o'clock last night and held a brief session. The order of business was the consideration of bills on first and second reading. There were 14 bills on second reading and two on the first reading calendar, and after they had all been read and agreed to the senate adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

Just before the senate adjourned Senator Hardenbergh, of Wayne, who assumed the office of auditor general, sent his resignation and it was read. Mr. Hardenbergh made a brief farewell address, and others made addresses.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

Common Pleas Judge—H. W. HARTER.
For State Senator—FRANK B. ARCHER.
State Senator—CHARLES C. CONNELL.
Representative—SAMUEL BUELL.
Representative—D. W. CRIST.
Sheriff—SAMUEL D. NORAGON.
Auditor—J. F. ADAMS.
Treasurer—W. A. THOMPSON.
Commissioner—EDEN REEDER.
Infirmary Director—G. W. ARMSTRONG.

THE SENATORIAL NOMINEES.

Not alone Columbiana county, but the entire district, is to be congratulated upon the work accomplished at the senatorial convention held at Steubenville on Tuesday. State Senator Frank B. Archer, who was nominated to succeed himself, has made a most excellent record in the legislature, while the other nominee, Attorney Charles C. Connell, of Lisbon, the unanimous choice of the Republican voters of Columbiana county for the second place, is equally capable of doing so. We are confident that when tried he will not be found wanting and that the interests of Columbiana county and the state of Ohio will receive earnest and thoughtful attention from him when he takes his seat in the upper house.

In a district, where, as here, a nomination is equivalent to an election, it is of the utmost importance that convention work be carefully and well done, and it is cause for thankfulness and satisfaction, both with the Republican party and with the people of the district generally, to know that no mistake was made in this instance. The convention was made up of sound Republicans and dispatched its work in a business-like manner. Enthusiasm prevailed, good speeches abounded, and everything said and done augured well for earnest work and complete success at the polls.

The convention acted wisely in pledging support to Senator Foraker for re-election to the high office he now holds. As a United States senator, Gen. Foraker has reflected honor upon his state and upon his party, and the Republicans are few and far apart, in this section of Ohio at least, who do not desire to see him returned to a position where he has rendered such excellent service both to state and to nation.

SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED.

The report that a Boston shoe firm is anxious to locate a factory here is one which should be thoroughly investigated by the board of trade and others interested in the welfare of the city. The desire of Bostonians or others to add to the number of our manufactories is one that should be encouraged. East Liverpool has demonstrated to the world that it is the ideal place for the manufacture of pottery, and should have no difficulty in proving that it is an equally good location for other branches of industry. Ours is too big a city to have all its eggs in one basket, to confine all its efforts to one line of effort, however profitable. Diversified industry is a safe foundation for prosperity. While neighboring cities are working constantly to gain that desideratum, East Liverpool should keep her eyes open and hold her hands ready to grasp whatever comes her way if it is worth securing.

NO MONOPOLY IN BANKING.

One of the wise measures passed by congress at its last session was a law intended to increase the banking facilities of the country. Under it only $25,000 capital is required for the establishment of a national bank. Five hundred and sixty-three applications for banks with less than $50,000 capital had been filed up to the close of last month. These banks are mainly in small towns, where money to invest is not as plentiful as in greater and richer communities, but where, nevertheless, a bank is a great public convenience, as well as a promoter of thrift and saving habits.

These small banks should end forever the tirades of Populist orators and demagogues against banks and banking. When a community, by pooling its capital, can establish a bank for $25,000, that business ceases to be a monopoly. Banks will be established wherever they are needed, or wherever the investors can see a reasonable opportunity for profit. It has long been the practice with cheap politicians to decry the banker, though he generally stands among the leading citizens and is the first whose aid is asked and given to promote schemes for the welfare and benefit of the public. Now that men of limited capital can become bankers if they wish, this senseless rant should cease.

If the Pennsylvania capitol is to be carried to one of the extreme limits of the state, why not bring it to Hookstown? As a quiet, orderly village, even Philadelphia can claim no advantages over it. Its moral atmosphere is just the sort the solons need. Why is Hookstown so backward in advertising its claims?

Provisions by the trainload and by the shipload and cash by the tens of thousands of dollars, all hurrying toward the suffering city of Jacksonville, show a national trait of sympathy and generosity toward the afflicted that should make every American proud of his country.

The physicians of Count Boni di Castellane are making a heroic effort to prolong his useless life. Their excuse is that they are paid for the work.

OBITUARY.

Isaac Lloyd.

Isaac Lloyd, a well known farmer, died Monday afternoon at his farm, one-half mile east of Damascus. He was 71 years old, and had been in poor health since early last fall. He was a member of the society of Friends. He is survived by his wife, formerly Hannah Butler and a son, Chester, and daughter, Elizabeth T., both of whom are grown and live at home. Miss Lloyd taught in the Damascus academy some years ago, and later acted as assistant principal at the academy at Plainfield, Ind.

Wilford Esterly.

Columbiana, May 8.—Wilford Esterly died at the home of his father-in-law, Rev. A. W. Harrald, Sunday morning of the grip, which developed into typhoid fever. He was a blacksmith, a member of the Dunkard congregation and an estimable young man. He had only been married a few months.

Mrs. Angus Noble.

Wellsville, May 8.—Mrs. Agnes Noble, wife of Dr. Angus Noble, died yesterday. Her maiden name was Sampson and she was born near Coraopolis, Pa., in 1848. She is survived by her husband and four children. Mrs. Noble was prominent in church work.

DIDN'T STAY LONG.

RICHARD GRAY'S WIFE WENT BACK TO HER OLD HOME.

The Reunion of the Long Separated Couple Only a Brief One.

The pathetic meeting of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gray, which was brought about through the efforts of the city officers, after the husband and wife wife had been separated several months, seems to have been about as short as it was sweet.

According to a story which has reached the mayor's office, Gray has given his wife the "cold shoulder," although the unsuspecting woman has been led to believe that she is yet the idol of her husband's heart. Mrs. Gray, who has been making her home at Parkersburg, sold all her household goods and came to this city for the purpose of staying here permanently.

However, notwithstanding his evident delight over this arrangement, it was far from being to the husband's liking that his better half should remain here. After a protracted visit amounting to two days, Mrs. Gray is back at her Parkersburg home, while Mr. Gray is still holding the fort in East Liverpool.

Before boarding the boat which carried her away, Mrs. Gray sat on the depot platform with needle and thread in her hand, and sewed buttons on a pair of her husband's trousers, thus proving that her devotion for him was as strong as ever. Mayor Dabur the husband is said to have taken up with another woman. Mayor Davidson has been appealed to by a number of women who are indignant. He refused to take any action unless an affidavit was filed.

FOUR QUIT WORK.

Warehousemen Claimed They Were Not Fairly Treated And Threw Up Their Jobs.

Leroy Aley, John Fowler, Carl Weaver and Charles Kennedy, who have been employed in the warehouse at the Laughlin No. 2 pottery, quit work yesterday. There are 11 men in the warehouse, five of whom reside in the city proper and the rest in the East End.

Three weeks ago last Monday the Ohio was so high that street cars and trains could not run and these four men refused to walk to work, but the fifth man walked up. When they reported for duty on Tuesday morning Weaver says he was given his two weeks' notice. The other men asked the reason for his discharge, and they were informed that it was for not reporting on Monday. They did not think this was fair and handed in their time, which expired yesterday.

THE SENATORIAL NOMINEES.

Not alone Columbiana county, but the entire district, is to be congratulated upon the work accomplished at the senatorial convention held at Steubenville on Tuesday. State Senator Frank B. Archer, who was nominated to succeed himself, has made a most excellent record in the legislature, while the other nominee, Attorney Charles C. Connell, of Lisbon, the unanimous choice of the Republican voters of Columbiana county for the second place, is equally capable of doing so. We are confident that when tried he will not be found wanting and that the interests of Columbiana county and the state of Ohio will receive earnest and thoughtful attention from him when he takes his seat in the upper house.

In a district, where, as here, a nomination is equivalent to an election, it is of the utmost importance that convention work be carefully and well done, and it is cause for thankfulness and satisfaction, both with the Republican party and with the people of the district generally, to know that no mistake was made in this instance. The convention was made up of sound Republicans and dispatched its work in a business-like manner. Enthusiasm prevailed, good speeches abounded, and everything said and done augured well for earnest work and complete success at the polls.

The convention acted wisely in pledging support to Senator Foraker for re-election to the high office he now holds. As a United States senator, Gen. Foraker has reflected honor upon his state and upon his party, and the Republicans are few and far apart, in this section of Ohio at least, who do not desire to see him returned to a position where he has rendered such excellent service both to state and to nation.

SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED.

The report that a Boston shoe firm is anxious to locate a factory here is one which should be thoroughly investigated by the board of trade and others interested in the welfare of the city. The desire of Bostonians or others to add to the number of our manufacturers is one that should be encouraged. East Liverpool has demonstrated to the world that it is the ideal place for the manufacture of pottery, and should have no difficulty in proving that it is an equally good location for other branches of industry. Ours is too big a city to have all its eggs in one basket, to confine all its efforts to one line of effort, however profitable. Diversified industry is a safe foundation for prosperity. While neighboring cities are working constantly to gain that desideratum, East Liverpool should keep her eyes open and hold her hands ready to grasp whatever comes her way if it is worth securing.

SOUTH SIDE.*CHESTER ELECTION

THE NEW TOWN CHOOSES A FULL SET OF OFFICERS.

Dunn Is Elected Mayor And Marshall Recorder—Few Illegal Ballots.

Last evening at sundown the polls closed at the first municipal election ever held in Chester. The total vote cast was 139. Seven of these were thrown out because they were found illegally marked when the ballots were counted.

Everything was unusually quiet at the polls, although it was apparent that the different candidates, who all tried to assume an indifferent air, were deeply interested. Only two attempts to vote illegally were made, and these were promptly challenged and the challenges sustained. An anxious crowd waited at the voting place last night until the result was announced. It was as follows:

For Mayor—Robert Dunn, 85; Alex Pugh, 43; B. I. Hilliard, 7.

For Recorder—John J. Marshall, 53; Thomas Bambick, 51; Frank Huff 33.

For Council—Joseph N. Finley, 94; J. A. McDonald, 93; J. S. Cochran, 88; W. H. Riley, 81; G. A. Arner, 63; S. N. Severs, 62; R. S. McGlumphy, 58; J. C. Calhoun, 51; R. G. Mercer, 39; J. T. Neville, 17.

Central Committee—John Gardner, Fred St. Clair, Enoch Riley, Thomas Croxall.

As shown by the above figures the officers elected were as follows: Mayor, Robert Dunn; recorder, John J. Marshall; councilmen, Joseph N. Finley, J. A. McDonald, J. S. Cochran, W. H. Riley, G. A. Arner.

Joseph N. Finley, for council, polled the highest vote of any man on the ticket, while B. I. Hilliard, for mayor, polled the lowest.

The result of the election was generally satisfactory.

It seems to be pretty well understood that Harn Allison, who is now serving as constable, will be appointed chief of police. Thus far there are no other aspirants for the position.

With a complete municipal government and under the wise administration of the officers chosen, no doubt Chester will prosper and grow.

Mayor Dunn's New Job.

Robert Dunn, who was chosen mayor of Chester yesterday, has accepted a position as motorman on the South-side line. He began work this afternoon.

Fountain Nearly Completed.

The electric fountain at the park was enclosed with glass today. It will be completed soon and will add greatly to the appearance of the park.

Taken to the Oil Field.

A stem for the Eisenebeiss well on the Blazier farm was received in Chester this morning and taken to the field.

IMPROVEMENTS BEGUN.

MAYOR AND CHIEF ARE HURRYING UP HOUSE CLEANING AT CITY HALL.

The work of remodeling the city hall "waiting room" was begun Tuesday afternoon by Mayor Davidson and Chief Thompson. All of the old paper that could be torn loose from the walls was taken off in preparation for the new coating of a more modern kind of paper. The selection was made by the mayor and marshal after a full week's deliberation.

A new door will be cut through the wall at the northwest corner of the room. This will be an improvement, the need of which has long been felt at police headquarters.

TO WED THIS EVENING.

BENJAMIN HODGSON AND STELLA CAMPBELL WILL BE MADE ONE.

Benjamin Hodgson and Miss Stella Campbell will be married at the home of the bride's parents on Avondale street this evening at 9 o'clock by Rev. Clark Crawford. W. H. McGinnis, of Youngstown, is a candidate for county recorder, and dropped down upon some of his constituents at Sebring last Friday to further his cause. He proved not only that he was quite a success as a candidate, but that he was somewhat of a fireman as well. That night at the fire at Geo. E. Sebring's residence, Mr. McGinnis took a hand in moving the hook and ladder truck along and was as much a sprinter as anyone on the line.

There will be 1,081 delegates at the Republican state convention, the largest number in the history of the state. On the basis of one delegate to every 500 votes cast for McKinley, Columbiana county with 10,255 votes is entitled to 21 delegates; Stark county with 13,165 votes, 26 delegates, and Mahoning county with 8,989 votes, 18 delegates, a total of 65 delegates for the Eighteenth district. McKinley's vote in Ohio last fall was 543,918.

The Holmes county Democratic convention resulted as follows: Common pleas judge, John T. Maxwell; senator, Newton Stillwell; representative, David Collier; treasurer, D. M. Miller; clerk, Louis Miley; sheriff, John E. Abertson; commissioner, P. M. Deetz; infirmary director, W. M. King. The convention was distinctively a Kilbourne one, and he will get the delegation from that county.

It is announced that within a few days Frank S. Monnett will open headquarters to boom his candidacy for attorney general at the hands of the Democratic state convention.

A Second Street Man Alleged to Have Assaulted His Wife—Police Watching Him.

A resident of Second street is alleged to have assaulted his wife Tuesday night. The woman's face is badly cut and bruised as the result of being struck with a barrel stave, which, she claims, her husband used. The police have been notified and the man is being closely watched.

It is said that neighbors are making an effort to have the husband arrested and sent away from the city. A petition is being circulated and has already been signed by a number of women. The paper will be presented to the mayor.

THE ROYAL BOX.

Prince Nicholas of Montenegro, father of the queen of Italy, is a poet and dramatic author as well as a soldier.

Of the English royal family within 200 years William III, Anne, the four Georges, a Duchess of Kent, the prince consort and Princess Alice each died on Saturday.

Sultan Abdul Hamid II has excluded Baedeker's "Guide to Palestine" from his dominions owing to certain criticisms it contains of the political and social conditions now prevailing in the Holy Land.

King Edward has expressed a preference for one very popular hymn. Six years ago he directed a letter to be written, stating that among hymns of a certain kind he thought there was "none more touching nor one that goes more truly to the heart than 'Near, My God, to Thee.'

The Duke of Cambridge, who completed his eighty-second year on March 26, is the first member of the English royal family in modern time to attain that age. Queen Victoria, the Duchess of Gloucester and George III all attained the age of 81, but died before attaining the age of 82.

SOUTH SIDE.*CHESTER ELECTION

THE NEW TOWN CHOOSES A FULL SET OF OFFICERS.

Dunn Is Elected Mayor And Marshall Recorder—Few Illegal Ballots.

Last evening at sundown the polls closed at the first municipal election ever held in Chester. The total vote cast was 139. Seven of these were thrown out because they were found illegally marked when the ballots were counted.

Everything was unusually quiet at the polls, although it was apparent that the different candidates, who all tried to assume an indifferent air, were deeply interested. Only two attempts to vote illegally were made, and these were promptly challenged and the challenges sustained. An anxious crowd waited at the voting place last night until the result was announced. It was as follows:

For Mayor—Robert Dunn, 85; Alex Pugh, 43; B. I. Hilliard, 7.

For Recorder—John J. Marshall, 53; Thomas Bambick, 51; Frank Huff, 33.

For Council—Joseph N. Finley, 94; J. A. McDonald, 93; J. S. Cochran, 88; W. H. Riley, 81; G. A. Arner, 63; S. N. Severs, 62; R. S. McGlumphy, 58; J. C. Calhoun, 51; R. G. Mercer, 39; J. T. Neville, 17.

Central Committee—John Gardner, Fred St. Clair, Enoch Riley, Thomas Croxall.

As shown by the above figures the officers elected were as follows: Mayor, Robert Dunn; recorder, John J. Marshall; councilmen, Joseph N. Finley, J. A. McDonald, J. S. Cochran, W. H. Riley, G. A. Arner.

Joseph N. Finley, for council, polled the highest vote of any man on the ticket, while B. I. Hilliard, for mayor, polled the lowest.

The result of the election was generally satisfactory.

It seems to be pretty well understood that Harm Allison, who is now serving as constable, will be appointed chief of police. Thus far there are no other aspirants for the position.

With a complete municipal government and under the wise administration of the officers chosen, no doubt Chester will prosper and grow.

All of the old paper that could be torn loose from the walls was taken off in preparation for the new coating of a more modern kind of paper. The selection was made by the mayor and marshal after a full week's deliberation.

A new door will be cut through the wall at the northwest corner of the room. This will be an improvement, the need of which has long been felt at police headquarters.

There will be 1,081 delegates at the Republican state convention, the largest number in the history of the state. On the basis of one delegate to every 500 votes cast for McKinley, Columbiana county with 10,255 votes is entitled to 21 delegates; Stark county with 13,165 votes, 26 delegates, and Mahoning county with 8,989 votes 18 delegates, a total of 65 delegates for the Eighteenth district. McKinley's vote in Ohio last fall was 543,918.

The Holmes county Democratic convention resulted as follows: Common Pleas judge, John T. Maxwell; senator, Newton Stillwell; representative, David Collier; treasurer, D. M. Miller; clerk, Louis Miley; sheriff, John E. Abertson; commissioner, P. M. Deetz; infirmary director, W. M. King. ## URGE END OF STRIFE

Lenders of Capital and Labor Tell How to Keep Peace and Prosperity.

CONCILIATION THEIR THEME

Bishop Potter Expressed Gratification at Growth of Spirit of Conciliation. Mitchell and Gompers Declare For Honorable Peace—Others Talked.

New York, May 8.—Conciliation as a means of maintaining industrial peace between labor and capital was discussed by leaders of unionism and finance at the chamber of commerce. The meeting was arranged by the industrial department of the National Civic Federation. The speakers were Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Bishop Potter, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Charles R. Flint, president of the American Rubber company; Daniel J. Keefe, of the Illinois board of arbitration; William H. Sayward, of the National Association of Builders; James O'Connell, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Herman Justi, commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' association.

Without Sacrificing Manhood.

Samuel Gompers presided, and in opening the meeting expressed the hope that a new epoch had come in the relations of labor and capital. "We want industrial peace, but not at the sacrifice of any of the elements of manhood," he said. "The increased growth in the organization of labor has brought greater responsibilities. The work is going ahead actively, however, and we are meeting our problems in a practical way. We are dealing with living men, and living women, and living children in the hope of better things for all. The laboring people insist that they be regarded as something more than wage earners. They are men with rights and hopes and aspirations and love." He expressed the belief that the plan of conciliation should be aided by every man who was against strife and for peace. He said that the unions sought to do injustice to no man, but were formed to conserve the rights of those who formed them.

Bishop Potter expressed his gratification at the growth of the spirit of conciliation. He noted a growth of intelligence and openmindedness among workmen, and said that upon it could be built the highest hope for the future. He added that at the same time there was a greater interest manifested on the part of employers in the lives and conditions of their men. He praised the humanity of American diplomacy in China and said that it offered a splendid example for emulation. "If you rise to this opportunity," he said, "you will set the world another example that it will be your privilege to remember with pride all of your lives."

John Mitchell said that he was for peace because he had known the brusies of war. "The relations of labor and capital," he said, "are purely a business proposition. There is no sentiment in it. Peace is better for both, and I am for peace if we can have an honorable peace. I believe there never would be strikes if the employers and employees could meet in fairness. If we could have got a hearing last year the great coal strike would have been averted." He said the public was a party to every strike and should be consulted. He hoped that the chamber of commerce of New York would lend its mighty aid to the conciliation plan.

Charles R. Flint, the capitalist, was humorously introduced as the walking delegate of the American Rubber company, who worked 14 hours a day. He expressed his confidence in the good that would come of closer relationship between labor and capital. He exhaustively reviewed the export trade of the country and the accomplishments of the skilled American laborer, and said that in this greatest industrial evolution the world had ever known there was no room for strife between American labor and American capital.

Daniel J. Keefe said that conciliation was more acceptable than arbitration, for in the latter system there had to be a decision defeating one side or the other.

Both Should Act Squarely.

William H. Sayward supported Mitchell's contention that the relation of the two great industrial forces was purely of a business nature. He said the laborer did not want sympathy, but good, square treatment, and when he got it he generally returned good, square treatment. He believed that employers should meet their men in a greater spirit of frankness.

James O'Connell said that in the metal trades employers and toilers had learned the benefits of organization and mutual concessions. He was sure the conciliation movement would do great good.

Herman Justi said in commencing: "Under the old dispensation employer and toiler sought for differences; under the new dispensation they seek points of agreement." He related the experience in Illinois with a policy of conciliation and said that it had worked excellently. "I hope this is the beginning of a great movement. Our national prosperity depends upon the steady employment of every wage earner at a decent wage, and I believe every employer in the country with a heart in his breast or a brain in his head knows it."

Samuel Gompers, in closing, said that the thorough organization of labor presaged complete protection for the honest employer against his dishonest competitor who "nibbled" at prices.

OLD BOILER EXPLODED.

Distillery and Saw Mill Blown to Pieces—2 Killed; 2 Injured.

Uniontown, Pa., May 8.—A saw mill and a distillery were blown to pieces, two men lost their lives and two more were dangerously injured, because the owner, who was one of those killed, persisted, it is said, in using a boiler that was unsafe. The accident occurred at the old "Czar Hart" distillery, in Southern Fayette county, near the West Virginia line in the mountain district. The list of victims follows:

Ezra Thomas, aged 46 years, owner of the property, killed; leaves a wife and two sons.

Frank Fearer, aged 27, employed at the distillery, killed; leaves a wife and two children.

Frank Thomas, a son of Ezra Thomas, bruised, burned and cut about the head.

William Dennis, an employe, hip bruised, shoulder dislocated and cut about the head.

VANDERBILT SECURES CONTROL.

Asserted That He Won in Fight For the Union Pacific.

New York, May 8.—The Mail and Express said yesterday:

"There is excellent authority for the statement that William K. Vanderbilt has carried the day in the contest for the control of the Union Pacific railroad, and that he intends to put through his plan for annexing it to the Vanderbilt system.

"His idea is that it shall be controlled by the Chicago and Northwestern and New York Central jointly, with a guarantee of 6 per cent on Union Pacific common stock and possibly an exchange of 3 per cent bonds, issued jointly by the Northwestern and New York Central, in exchange for Union Pacific common stock. There may, however, be some change in this last feature."

GATES LOCKED.

Citizens Complain That Spring Grove Cemetery Is Closed of Evenings.

At this time of the year the people always commence to fix up the graves of relatives, and as a rule, they take the cool of the evening, but it is impossible for them to enter the Spring Grove cemetery, as the gates are all locked and they are unable to get in. A prominent resident of the city, in speaking of the matter yesterday, said:

"Mr. Myler, who has charge of the cemetery, remains there during the day, but in the evening he leaves and locks all the gates. There are a large number of the people of the city who work during the day and have no chance to get there before 6 or 7 o'clock, and when they arrive they find they had their trip for nothing, as they are unable to get in. It would not be quite so bad if there was any place along the road where they could hitch their horses, as they could climb the fence, but this is not to be had. I for one think Mr. Myler could remain a little later in the evenings and accommodate the people."

URGE END OF STRIFE

Leaders of Capital and Labor Tell
How to Keep Peace and Prosperity.

CONCILIATION THEIR THEME

Bishop Potter Expressed Gratification at Growth of Spirit of Conciliation.
Mitchell and Gompers Declare For Honorable Peace—Others Talked.

New York, May 8.—Conciliation as a means of maintaining industrial peace between labor and capital was discussed by leaders of unionism and finance at the chamber of commerce. The meeting was arranged by the industrial department of the National Civic Federation. The speakers were Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Bishop Potter, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Charles R. Flint, president of the American Rubber company; Daniel J. Keefe, of the Illinois board of arbitration; William H. Sayward, of the National Association of Builders; James O'Connell, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Herman Justi, commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' association.

Without Sacrificing Manhood.

Samuel Gompers presided, and in opening the meeting expressed the hope that a new epoch had come in the relations of labor and capital. "We want industrial peace, but not at the sacrifice of any of the elements of manhood," he said. "The increased growth in the organization of labor has brought greater responsibilities. The work is going ahead actively, however, and we are meeting our problems in a practical way. We are dealing with living men, and living women, and living children in the hope of better things for all. The laboring people insist that they be regarded as something more than wage earners. They are men with rights and hopes and aspirations and love." He expressed the belief that the plan of conciliation should be aided by every man who was against strife and for peace. He said that the unions sought to do injustice to no man, but were formed to conserve the rights of those who formed them.

Bishop Potter expressed his gratification at the growth of the spirit of conciliation. He noted a growth of intelligence and openmindedness among workmen, and said that upon it could be built the highest hope for the future. He added that at the same time there was a greater interest manifested on the part of employers in the lives and conditions of their men. He praised the humanity of American diplomacy in China and said that it offered a splendid example for emulation. "If you rise to this opportunity," he said, "you will set the world another example that it will be your privilege to remember with pride all of your lives."

John Mitchell said that he was for peace because he had known the bruses of war. "The relations of labor and capital," he said, "are purely a business proposition. There is no sentiment in it. Peace is better for both, and I am for peace if we can have an honorable peace. I believe there never would be strikes if the employers and employees could meet in fairness. If we could have got a hearing last year the great coal strike would have been averted." He said the public was a party to every strike and should be consulted. He hoped that the chamber of commerce of New York would lend its mighty aid to the conciliation plan.

Charles R. Flint, the capitalist, was humorously introduced as the walking delegate of the American Rubber company, who worked 14 hours a day. He expressed his confidence in the good that would come of closer relationship between labor and capital. He exhaustively reviewed the export trade of the country and the accomplishments of the skilled American laborer, and said that in this greatest industrial evolution the world had ever known there was no room for strife between American labor and American capital.

Daniel J. Keefe said that conciliation was more acceptable than arbitration, for in the latter system there had to be a decision defeating one side or the other.

Both Should Act Equally.

William H. Sayward supported Mitchell's contention that the relation of the two great industrial forces was purely of a business nature. He said the laborer did not want sympathy, but good, square treatment, and when he got it he generally returned good, square treatment. He believed that employers should meet their men in a greater spirit of frankness.

James O'Connell said that in the metal trades employers and toilers had learned the benefits of organization and mutual concessions. He was sure the conciliation movement would great good.

Herman Justi said in commencing: "Under the old dispensation employer and toiler sought for differences; under the new dispensation they seek points of agreement." He related the experience in Illinois with a policy of conciliation and said that it had worked excellently. "I hope this is the beginning of a great movement. Our national prosperity depends upon the steady employment of every wage earner at a decent wage, and I believe every employer in the country with a heart in his breast or a brain in his head knows it."

Samuel Gompers, in closing, said that the thorough organization of labor presaged complete protection for the honest employer against his dishonest competitor who "nibbled" at prices.

OLD BOILER EXPLODED.

Distillery and Saw Mill Blown to Pieces—2 Killed; 2 Injured.

Uniontown, Pa., May 8.—A saw mill and a distillery were blown to pieces, two men lost their lives and two more were dangerously injured, because the owner, who was one of those killed, persisted, it is said, in using a boiler that was unsafe. The accident occurred at the old "Czar Hart" distillery, in Southern Fayette county, near the West Virginia line in the mountain district. The list of victims follows:

Ezra Thomas, aged 46 years, owner of the property, killed; leaves a wife and two sons.

Frank Fearer, aged 27, employed at the distillery, killed; leaves a wife and two children.

Frank Thomas, a son of Ezra Thomas, bruised, burned and cut about the head.

William Dennis, an employe, hip bruised, shoulder dislocated and cut about the head.

VANDERBILT SECURES CONTROL.

Asserted That He Won in Fight For the Union Pacific.

New York, May 8.—The Mail and Express said yesterday:

"There is excellent authority for the statement that William K. Vanderbilt has carried the day in the contest for the control of the Union Pacific railroad, and that he intends to put through his plan for annexing it to the Vanderbilt system.

"His idea is that it shall be controlled by the Chicago and Northwestern and New York Central jointly, with a guarantee of 6 per cent on Union Pacific common stock and possibly an exchange of 3 per cent bonds, issued jointly by the Northwestern and New York Central, in exchange for Union Pacific common stock. There may, however, be some change in this last feature."

GATES LOCKED.

Citizens Complain That Spring Grove Cemetery Is Closed of Evenings.

At this time of the year the people always commence to fix up the graves of relatives, and as a rule, they take the cool of the evening, but it is impossible for them to enter the Spring Grove cemetery, as the gates are all locked and they are unable to get in. A prominent resident of the city, in speaking of the matter yesterday, said:

"Mr. Myler, who has charge of the cemetery, remains there during the day, but in the evening he leaves and locks all the gates. There are a large number of the people of the city who work during the day and have no chance to get there before 6 or 7 o'clock, and when they arrive they find they had their trip for nothing, as they are unable to get in. It would not be quite so bad if there was any place along the road where they could hitch their horses, as they could climb the fence, but this is not to be had. I for one think Mr. Myler could remain a little later in the evenings and accommodate the people."

IN CALIFORNIA TODAY

The Presidential Party Was Due at Redlands at 9 O'Clock This Morning

ARIZONANS ASK STATEHOOD

At Indian School Indian Maiden Pleads With a Supposed Uncle Sam For Admission, While a Band Played Hail Columbia—Nice Reception.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 8.—About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the presidential party resumed its journey. The departure was so timed that the Colorado desert and old basin of the Gulf of California below sea level and barren of all vegetation would be traversed during the night. Redlands, Cal., the first stop, it was expected, would be reached about 9 a.m. today.

Interesting Day In Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 8.—The presidential party spent an interesting day in Arizona Tuesday. The beautiful turquoise sky, bright sunshine and invigorating air afforded the party much relief after the hot and dusty ride of Monday.

About two hours in the morning at the Congress gold mine, up in the clouds of the Blue Tank mountains, were replete with incidents, and were thoroughly enjoyed.

A large American flag was draped across the tunnel through which the president passed and after he emerged he told the little group of miners who congregated about the train that he had seen Old Glory floating from tower and state house and warship in many different places, but that never before during his life had he seen the American flag 1,500 feet under ground.

Leaving the rich mining section in the mountains 4,000 feet above sea level, the train dropped down into the green Salt river valley, with its waving alfalfa meadows and big herds of cattle.

This valley is called the garden spot of Arizona and was re-claimed by irrigation. Monday, passing through New Mexico, and Tuesday in Arizona, the cow punchers at the stops along the route inquired vociferously where "Teddy" was.

Many of the vice president's rough riders during the Spanish war were recruited in this section, and there was much disappointment that he was not in the party.

On the way to Phoenix the tire of one of the wheels of the engine tender became loose, and for the first time since the long journey began the telegrapher with the train was compelled to climb a telegraph pole to tap the wire.

At Wickenburg, the scene of the recent gold mine strike, the train was halted long enough to permit the president to receive a visit from the school children. The children presented Mrs. McKinley with a cabinet of specimens.

The president thanked the children in Mrs. McKinley's behalf and also talked further.

About 20 miles outside of Phoenix the party saw from the car windows the government agricultural experiment station, to which Secretary Wilson, about a year ago, sent 40 date palms, which had been brought out of the Tripoli desert on the backs of camels. The palms are doing well and much is expected of them in the future in the southwest.

The palms are doing well and much is expected of them in the future in the southwest.

An accident to the locomotive tender delayed the arrival of the train at Phoenix about two hours and somewhat disarranged the program there.

Governor Murphy and the territorial officers had met the party at the Congress mine and accompanied them back to Phoenix. At the station the territorial militia, a company of cowboys on bronchos and some of the friendly Pima and Maricopa Indians joined in a wildly enthusiastic reception.

The party was driven to the Adams hotel for luncheon and afterwards was escorted to the territorial capitol, where the formal exercises took place.

Governor Murphy delivered an address of welcome, to which the president responded.

A drive afterwards gave the president an opportunity to see the interesting ruins of the ancient Aztec irrigation system. At the Indian industrial school, about four miles from Phoenix, the party had a good view of what is being done in the way of the education of the wards of the nation.

A pretty little ceremony was enacted here for the benefit of the president. While an Indian band played "Hail Columbia," a beautiful Indian maiden in pantomime pleaded with a man dressed to represent Uncle Sam for statehood for the territory.

EASTMAN GAVE TESTIMONY.

Declared Shooting Was Accidental Told of Struggle With Grogan.

Cambridge, Mass., May 8.—In the Eastman murder trial the defendant himself took the stand to tell his own story. He went to no elaborate details, but answered only the questions put to him by his lawyer. For about two hours he was on the stand, giving his testimony as to his relations with Grogan and the incidents of the day of the shooting. He declared the shooting was an accident, and up to last October he had always believed that it was the old rim-fire pistol that discharged the bullet which killed his brother-in-law.

The struggle which followed, he said, was for the possession of the center-fire pistol which Grogan had in his hand. Eastman said that he went to Grogan first to assist him.

and then, because of the expression on his face, to get the weapon away from him. He said that there was so much noise and confusion in the struggle that he could not recall how many times Grogan's revolver went off. But that it did go off he was almost certain. He did not know how he received his own wound, and said he did everything possible after the affair to assist Grogan to the house and was prostrated with grief when he found that he was dying.

The cross-examination was not finished when the court adjourned.

TO PAROLE THE YOUNGERS.

Minnesota Prison Managers Favor It—Board Must Approve.

St. Paul, Minn., May 8.—At a regular meeting of the board of managers of the state prison at Stillwater unanimous action was taken in favor of paroling Cole and James Younger, now serving life sentences.

Before the parole can be effective all three members of the state pardon board must approve it, and the action will be submitted to that body as soon as possible. This is in accordance with the new law, which allows the parole of life prisoners after about 24 years' imprisonment, being 35 years, less time gained by good behavior.

Paroles usually are granted by the prison management alone, but in the case of life prisoners unanimous approval of the board of pardons is also necessary, and such paroled life prisoners cannot leave the state.

The pardon board does not meet regularly until July, but a special meeting may be called if the members of the board consider one necessary.

Cole, James and "Bob" Younger have been in Stillwater since 1876 for the Northfield (Minn.) bank robbery and the murder committed during that raid, in which they participated with the James gang. The James brothers, Jesse and Frank, escaped to Missouri. Two members of the gang were killed and Bob Younger died in prison. Owing to the peculiar circumstances surrounding the capture of the Youngers efforts have been unceasing to obtain their pardon. They might have escaped at the time, but remained behind to care for one of the gang who was mortally wounded, and whom, it is said, the others favored killing.

Entire City Feted a Pastor.

D., hale and hearty at 82, completed his fiftieth year as pastor of the Presbyterian church, Ogdensburg, and the city, without regard to creed, joined in a three days' jubilee celebration in recognition of his services. During his pastorate he solemnized 1,885 marriages, officiated at 1,458 funerals, received 1,363 members into his church, and preached 9,078 sermons.

SOME CURIOUS CHURCHES.

Congregations Which Meet In Inns, Windmills and Boats.

A public house is one of the last places one would expect to be used as a place of worship. The inhabitants of Twyford, a village near Winchester, would not consider this at all a novelty, because for several years past the Phoenix inn has been used Sunday for religious purposes. The room in which the religious services are held will comfortably hold about 200 people and opens at the back on to a pretty tea garden. The most remarkable feature of the services is that they are often conducted while the public house is open for business purposes, and the customers can join in the singing if they are so disposed.

There are two or three instances of public houses which have been converted into churches, and there are also two or three theaters which are now places of worship. The Fen district possesses a canalboat church. There are a large number of people who live some distance away from any church, and the canalboat church travels from place to place for the benefit of such folk. The boat will seat a congregation of about 100.

The old chapel of ease at Tunbridge Wells has a unique situation. It stands in two counties and three parishes. When the clergyman leaves the vestry, he comes out of the parish of Frant of Sussex. If he is going to officiate at the altar, he walks into the parish of Tunbridge, in Kent. If, on the other hand, he is going to preach the sermon, he walks from the parish of Frant to the parish of Speldhurst on his way to the pulpit.

The chapel at Milton Bryant is situated in the village pond. The reason for the selection of this strange site was because no landowner would grant any other position.

The "windmill" church near Relgate is familiar to London cyclists. Not so familiar is the underground church at Brighton. Owing to some "ancient lights" difficulty, the authorities could not "build up," and as the site was a good one they decided to "build down."—London Mail.

USING HIS WITS.

Showing How People May Be Guided by Inference.

"You see," said the man with the bulging forehead and prominent nose, "if people would only be guided more by inference it would save lots of useless trouble."

"I don't understand you," said the man who had been tickling a pimple on his chin.

"Why, for instance, I passed a frozen pond one winter day. On the ice I saw a pair of skates, a boy's cap and a mitten. Out in the middle of the pond the ice was broken. Did I jump to the conclusion that a boy had been drowned and raise a great hullabaloo about it?"

"Of course you did, or else you ought to be prosecuted. You don't mean to say you passed on and said nothing?"

"I do," calmly replied the man of the forehead. "I inferred instead of jumping to a false conclusion."

"But you had to infer that the boy was under the ice," protested the other.

"Not a bit of it. If the boy had fallen in, the skates and cap and mittens would have gone with him. I simply inferred that he had seen a rabbit and given chase. I was right too. In the course of five minutes I met him on the road."

"Oh, you did! And maybe you inferred something else."

"Of course I did. As he had the nosebleed, I inferred that he had fallen over a log in the chase and got left, and he admitted that such was the case."

"Then you ought to have wound up

the performance by inferring whether it was a male or female rabbit."

"It wasn't necessary, my captious friend. As I passed on I found the rabbit, dead from overexertion, and it was a male."—Washington Post.

The Clothes Moth.

We may marvel at grubs growing fat and succulent upon such unpromising fare as old timber affords, but that achievement is improved upon by the insects that prefer to draw their entire nutrition from woolen fabrics, fur, horsehair, feathers, tanned leather and the like and apparently without ever a desire to "wet their whistles" by anything of a juicy nature. Any small, silvery winged moth that is seen flitting about the house is regarded as a "clothes moth," but every one killed is not an enemy, for there are a number of moths of similar size and appearance that come from outdoors and have been occupied as grubs in destroying green leaves. It is a common error to suppose that it is the clothes moth that does the mischief, though by destroying the moth we prevent the laying of innumerable eggs from which come the consuming larvae, whose cutting jaws would be actively and incessantly employed in mutilating choice fabrics and valuable furs. These caterpillars are rarely seen by the housewife because their first care on leaving the egg is to disguise or hide themselves.

The clothes moth proper has yellowish gray wings, with three or four indefinite brownish spots upon them, and in consequence of its marked preference for furs it is known to science as Tinea pellionella.—Good Words.

A Common Freak.

When P. T. Barnum was in the museum business in New York, one of his most jovial friends was Gaylord Clark, a famous litterateur in the days of our fathers. They were a well matched pair of practical jokers. One day when Mr. Clark dropped in at the museum, as was his custom, Mr. Barnum, apparently much excited, hurried his friend into the private office and said: "Gaylord, I was about to send for you. I want your advice. I have a chance to purchase the most wonderful of all zoological freaks. It's at first a perfect fish, then it changes to a four legged land animal, then it climbs trees and"—

"Bah! You're joking," interjected Mr. Clark.

"On my honor I am not," impressively replied the showman. "But the expense."

"Oh, hang the expense," interrupted Mr. Clark, brimful of enthusiasm over the business project of his friend. "If you can get any such freak as that, your fortune's made. But what's the thing called?"

"Well," replied Mr. Barnum, with just the faintest suggestion of a twinkle in his left eye, "it belongs to the batrachian family of animals and in the vernacular is called the—the tadpole!"

NUMEROUS LIQUOR CASES HAVE COURT'S ATTENTION

Many East Liverpool and Wellsville Saloonists Are on the List of Alleged Violators of the Law.

ACCUSED WERE ARRAIGNED IN COURT TODAY CAPTURED AT SMITH'S FERRY

Dawson and Lowery, East Liverpool Boy Burglars, Sentenced to the Reform School—Men Who Robbed a Salem Saloon Get a Year Each In the Penitentiary—A Like Fate For Busler, the Wellsville Burglar—Brown's Trial On.

Lisbon, May 8.—(Special)—The first session of criminal court during this term opened this morning at 10 o'clock. A number of criminals were called upon to answer to the charges against them.

William Bell and John Healy, of Leetonia, were arraigned on a charge of robbing the saloon of Paul Shaffer in Salem. Each pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Irvin H. Busler, of Wellsville, withdrew his plea of not guilty of burglary and larceny and pleaded guilty to grand larceny. He was also sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Samuel Dawson and Drexel Lowery, East Liverpool boys, entered a plea of guilty to breaking, entering and larceny at the Milligan Hardware store when first arraigned. They were each sentenced today to the reform school at Lancaster during their minority.

Sampson Evans, Jr., a Lisbon minor, was arraigned on a charge of furnishing liquor to a minor. He pleaded guilty and Judge Hole ordered him to pay the costs and serve 30 days in the Canton workhouse.

William Winn, of Wellsville, pleaded guilty to furnishing liquor to a minor, and was fined $20 and costs.

John Deer, of Hanoverton, also sold to a minor and pleaded guilty to furnishing. He paid $20 and costs.

Harry J. Jeanguenot, of East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to two indictments for selling to minors. In each case he got $20 and costs.

The following saloonmen were arraigned and entered pleas of not guilty, each furnishing bond in each charge, in the sum of $100, for appearance for trial: John Robinson, East Liverpool, two charges of selling to minors; Francis O'Hanlon, of East Liverpool, three charges of selling to habitual drunkards; Charles Parker, of East Liverpool, five charges, two for keeping open on Sunday and three for selling to minors; James Caton, of East Liverpool, three charges, of selling to habitual drunkards; Joseph Geisse, of Wellsville, 12 charges, including almost every offense possible against the liquor laws; Hettie Geisse, of Wellsville, one charge of selling on Sunday; Frank Geisse, of Wellsville, one charge of keeping open and selling on Sunday; John A. David Brown, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Laura Williams, of East Liverpool, will probably be placed on trial this afternoon. A number of witnesses are here to testify.

Martin Morrissey, of Hanover township, says that Patrick McGee took an acre of land from him and wants the court to give him judgment for $100. The farms of the parties adjoin and Morrissey says that McGee tore down the line fence and moved it.

A bill of exceptions was filed today in the case of Nettie Ramsey vs. Andrew Ramsey, of Elk Run township, and the case is now in circuit court. The action is that in which the daughter recently recovered judgment against her father for $624 for caring for him.

OFFICERS HAD A LONG CHASE

Mrs. Lucille Dill, Who Assaulted Mrs. William Price, Proved to Be a Good Sprinter.

The Woman Says She Assaulted Mrs. Price Because She Had Made Love to Mr. Dill—Charged With Assault With Intent to Kill.

The chase given the female assailant of Mrs. William Price Tuesday afternoon, in which the patrolmen and several police took part, terminated victoriously for the officers, although the fugitive proved to be a sprinter of no mean ability. Not until she had made her way to Smith's Ferry was she overtaken, and perhaps the woman would not then have been captured had it not been for a clever bit of strategic work on the part of her pursuers.

By the time the officers were notified of the assault the woman had passed through the East End, and had a good start on those following her. Officers Thompson, Dawson and Stafford started afoot and Patrolmen Woods and Bryan followed with the wagon. It was learned the woman was headed toward Smith's Ferry and the "scouts" made rapid headway for that place.

On nearing the outskirts of the village, the fleeing female was sighted making her way for the bridge at the state line. The policemen by taking across the fields succeeded in reaching the bridge ahead of the woman. For a moment she stood still, apparently experiencing a feeling of chagrin at being baffled in her effort to get across the bridge, but turning suddenly she started back down the road toward the town.

In the meantime the patrolmen had reached the scene and with the assistance of J. M. Pelley, a street car motorman, the woman was captured and landed in the wagon. She had no weapons and made no effort to fight the officers, although she was worked up into a mad frenzy when told she was to be taken to jail.

At the city the woman gave her name as Lucille Dill. When asked why she committed the assault on Mrs. Price, she said she did it because the woman had made love to Mr. Dill and had once kissed him.

Late Tuesday evening the husband of the Italian woman came to the jail carrying an infant child in his arms. He also had another two-year-old child and a 16-year-old boy with him, which he desired to turn over to the mother. He was permitted to give the infant to the woman, but the other children were not allowed to remain.

The husband, whose name is Carmen Dill, and whose home is on Pennsylvania avenue, says he can give no reason for his wife's actions. He ridiculed her allegations as to his having made love to Mrs. Price, and says his wife has become jealous of him without cause. He alleges that she is mentally unsound and has a mania for committing assault. Dill declares that his better half was twice arrested in Italy for crime identical with that for which she must now answer.

As yet no affidavit has been filed against Mrs. Dill but it is the intention of Mrs. Price to prosecute her assailant on the charge of assault with intent to kill. Mayor Davidson called Tuesday night at the Price home and found the injured woman resting easily. Though the wounds are of a severe nature, it is not thought they are necessarily dangerous.

Mrs. Dill, previous to making the attack on Mrs. Price, made preparations for leaving the city, and when found at Smith's Ferry she had her husband's pocketbook containing $17, which, he asserts, his wife stole from him. At police headquarters Dill told the officers he was penniless and that there was nothing to eat at his home.

A portion of the money was turned over to him.

Mrs. Dill expected to board the east-bound train Tuesday evening and start for New York. She admits it was her purpose to leave her infant, and expressed regret that she did not accomplish what she had planned to do.

SOLD 33 LOTS.

GEO. H. OWEN & CO.'S BIG DEAL IN REAL ESTATE.

Valuable East End Property Passes Into the Possession of George Peach & Son.

Geo. H. Owen & Co. this morning concluded an important land sale, disposing of 33 lots in the heart of the East End, to George Peach & Son. The lots are in the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson addition and lie near Pennsylvania avenue. They are centrally located and well located for residential purposes and will be sold off by their new owners. The consideration is in the neighborhood of $12,000, and the transaction was a cash one.

This is among the biggest sales of this class of property for months. East End land, as in other parts of the city, is in demand and is rapidly increasing in value.

VICIOUS DOG

Attacked a Traveling Man And Bit Him Severely—Damage Suit Threatened.

K. K. Mitchell, a traveling man of Cleveland, was attacked Tuesday night in Locust alley by a vicious dog. The brute sprang at the man without warning, and before it could be driven off, sank its teeth into the flesh of Mr. Mitchell's left leg.

The injured man went at once to a surgeon and had the wound dressed. He then made his way to the city hall in search of an officer. Policemen Stafford and Davidson were appealed to and asked to dispatch the dog, but they refused to do so until the mayor had first given them the authority. The drummer became indignant and threatened to bring suit against the city, but despite his protests the dog was not killed. Mitchell left this morning for his home.

A CLUE TO IDENTITY

Of the Dead Man Found at Walker's Believed He Was Drowned at North Industry.

From a description which has been received in this city from Pittsburgh of the three men who were drowned at North Industry last winter as the result of being run down in a skiff by a tow boat, it is thought the corpse found at Walker's yesterday was that of one of the missing men.

His clothing and description tallies with that given of one of the men, and as the body had been in the water a great length of time, it is believed there is little doubt of the man being one of the three who met death at North Industry.

A GIRL MISSING FROM HER HOME

Bertha Frank, Formerly of This City, Is Thought to Have Drowned Herself.

SAID TO HAVE MADE THREATS

Brooding Over Trouble With Her Lover—She Formerly Worked in a Pottery in East Liverpool, But Latterly Resided in Evansville, Ind.

Bertha Frank formerly of this city, is thought to have committed suicide at Evansville, Ind., last Saturday. Miss Frank formerly worked in a pottery here and has several relatives in this city.

Miss Frank had been employed at the Goodwin clothing store in Evansville for several years. She went to work as usual Saturday morning and seemed in the best of spirits.

At noon the girl's mother sent her dinner to her. The brother of the girl took the meal to the girl and when he left the building she kissed him goodbye.

Evening came and the girl did not come home. The parents were alarmed but did not say anything to the neighbors about the actions of their daughter, thinking she would surely come back the next morning. Sunday morning came and still no Bertha returned and the parents became greatly alarmed and notified the police of the disappearance of their daughter and asked them to assist in finding her.

When Bertha left the Goodwin manufacturing plant Saturday she was alone, and if she started in the direction of the river no one saw her. Late in the evening, however, a girl answering to her description was seen standing on the river bank at the foot of Fulton avenue. Two men passed down the river in a skiff and noticed the girl standing close to the water. It was too dark to get a good look at the girl and the men not thinking anything wrong, did not pull ashore.

For the past week Bertha has been on the outs with her lover and it is believed she brooded over the affair, although she seemed happy at home and was kind to her parents.

One of the girl's friends assert that Bertha said a day or two before her disappearance that she was going to end her existence by jumping in the river.

The brother of the missing girl went along the river in the vicinity of Fulton avenue Sunday afternoon and Sunday night, but he could find no trace of his sister.

The Frank girl left home about two years ago and was gone about a week when she turned up all right. She remained at the home of a relative during her absence. The parents of the missing girl are broken-hearted.

HIT IN THE EYE.

Charles Triffard Hurt at Base Ball Practice—Game Arranged With Industry.

Charley Triffard, the shortstop of the Dixonville team, was hit in the left eye with the ball while practicing yesterday and painfully injured. The eye is swollen shut and greatly inflamed. He will be unable to practice again for several days.

The Dixonville team will meet the Industry, Pa., nine at Georgetown next Saturday. The local team is practicing daily and expect to have a walk-over when they meet the "farmers," as they call the Industry boys. It is said the Industry boys are very clever in the field, however, and the contest promises to be a lively one.

FISH TOO TAME.

Therefore the East End Waltons Brought Back No Basketfuls.

That fishing party that spent yesterday on Beaver creek returned late in the evening and sought the rear doors of their respective homes. One of them was interviewed this morning, but he had nothing to say. He explained to a friend, however, that the reason they came back empty-handed was because the fish were too tame to bite.

"Why," said he, "I pushed one big sucker off a rock with my pole and he just sank down to the side of it and wouldn't move until I tried to catch him with my hand and then he just barely kept out of the way."

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION.

A YEAR OF PROSPERITY

Arthur Underwood, secretary of the vestry of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, made the following report at the annual meeting:

"The treasurer's report manifests in figures the work accomplished. In compliance with the choice of the congregation we have erected the new church building since the last annual parish meeting. The first stone of the foundation was put in place on the 15th day of May, 1900, by the rector. There was present at the service a few of the parishioners, and on the 7th day of June the corner-stone was laid by the bishop of the diocese in the presence of a large concourse of people. The work was rapidly pushed and brought to a final completion in December and was dedicated by the bishop of the diocese on St. Stephen's day, December 26, thus completing this gigantic work in less than 12 months.

"We now have the satisfaction of feeling justly proud of possessing one of the finest church buildings in the diocese. May it prove a benediction to us and the community at large. We have also, through the efforts of the rector, been the recipients of a very handsome pipe organ, donated by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. The organ will be placed in position as soon as possible and will, when so placed, fully complete in every detail the magnificent structure in which it is our privilege to worship.

"The amount of labor in detail necessary for the construction of so extensive a building has called the vestry together at thirty sessions, of which there were nineteen special meetings. These meetings have been—notwithstanding the anxiety about doing what was best for the interest of the congregation—a source of pleasure as well as profitable to us all.

"It is our sad duty to report the death of one of our brother vestrymen, William Baggott, the senior member of the vestry for many years, a most faithful worker for the church. His loss has been felt and will continue to be for some long time. May all church people emulate his example and prove faithful to the end.

"In conclusion we beg to impress upon the members of the congregation the fact that from now on, the vestry are coming face to face with greater responsibilities than before, with the large church and increased expenses connected therewith. Yet we feel confident that the loyal patronage of the past few years will not diminish but increase, and all, we pray, will come forward and strengthen the hands of the vestry by liberally supporting the general fund of the church, so as to meet the obligations of the parish."

ACTIVITY IN N. P. STOCKS.

Extraordinary Demand For That Stock Continued Tuesday—Supposition as to Reason.

New York, May 8.—Tuesday's stock market showed all the gradations of sentiment, from buoyant elation at the opening to disorderly alarm, verging on demoralization, in the latter part of the day. The market hinged almost entirely on Northern Pacific. The extraordinary demand for that stock continued, and it almost duplicated Monday's rise, advancing an extreme  $22\frac{1}{4}$ , compared with  $23$  Monday. In the early dealings this strength retained a part of its sympathetic influence. The reason for the rise exerting depressing influence on the rest of the market was shrouded in as much mystery as the whole movement has been. As the day drew toward the close rumors began to gain currency that the enormous demand for this stock of the last two days was the result of a desperate effort to regain control on the part of insiders. The supposition is that the recent effort to secure control of Union Pacific led to a retaliatory movement on the part of the powerful capitalists who control Union Pacific to embarrass the Northern Pacific interests with an enforced contest to maintain their control. The success of the plan must be admitted, if such a struggle is really the cause of the buying in Northern Pacific. The brokers employed in the buying serve as some corroboration for such a supposition. A house which was credited with buying 200,000 shares Monday was a buyer of tens of thousands of shares Tuesday, and was at the same time lending out the stock for the benefit of the shorts to an amount estimated at 100,000 shares, thus striving to allay the alarm of the short interest, and thus discouraging the hypothesis that the buying movement was designed for a squeeze against the shorts. The appearances rather went to show that the short interest was among the insiders. The presumptions which might flow from the fact of such a struggle between great groups of capitalists had a chilling effect on the whole speculation. It would indicate also that the leading financial interest which has been the conspicuous figure in all the recent financial plans had been outgeneraled. There were fears also that the collapse to follow the volatile rise in Northern Pacific would unfavorably affect the whole stock market. The rumors regarding Northern Pacific did not begin to take this form until late in the day. Reports that the preferred stock was to have the option of exchange with the common stock and so doing away with its prior claims sent Northern Pacific preferred up over 10 points.

The higher rate for money and the demands by brokers for larger margins also had a repressive influence on speculation. The late selling was enhanced by the discouragement of timid holders who are only willing to hold on a rise. The break at the last was severe, reaching  $8\frac{3}{4}$  in Northern Pacific,  $8\frac{1}{2}$  in St. Paul,  $8$  in Union Pacific,  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in Rock Island,  $5$  in Baltimore and Ohio and between  $2$  and  $5$  points in the large majority of the active list. The United States Steel stocks were again under pressure throughout and the current gossip attributed this liquidation to a shifting of holdings from the steel stocks into railroads. Prices closed above the lowest, as bears took quick profits, but the closing undertone continued distinctly weak.

U. S. 5s declined  $\frac{1}{2}$  and the 3s  $\frac{1}{4}$  per cent on the last call.

LAW POINTS.

An account stated is merely an agreement between persons who have had previous transaction, fixing the amount due as the result of an accounting between them.

A promise by one to pay the debt of another out of the funds of such other party in his hands is not a promise that should be in writing in order to be binding on the promiser.

A levy on an undivided half of a portion of partnership property owned equally by two persons is invalid where the judgment is against only one of the partners individually.

An indorsement on the back of a note before its delivery subjects the indorser merely to the obligations of an ordinary indorsement unless it is shown that the maker of such indorsement did it as a maker of the note.

A LINE ACROSS OHIO

Electric Railway Projected to Extend All the Way From Cincinnati to Toledo.

A PAST IS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The Line is Intended to Be Standard Gauge and is Expected to Be Built Along the Old Canal From Cincinnati to Toledo, O.

Cleveland, May 8.—The privilege to develop the Miami and Erie canal trolley line from Cincinnati to Toledo, O., recently secured by W. H. Lamprecht and a syndicate of Cleveland capitalists by the Ohio legislature, has been turned over to the Everett-Moore syndicate by means of secret negotiations, which reached a culmination. Lamprecht will be ousted. There is nothing in the charter to prevent the operation of a passenger or freight trolley system along the canal under the original Fordyce grant, and that will be done. Tracks will be standard gauge, and there will be a trolley road clear across Ohio, the longest in the world.

Already the line between Detroit and Toledo is in a forward stage, the Everett-Moore syndicate owning this. The Canal Trolley company, gobbled by Everett, is capitalized at $2,000,000.

HARDENBERGH QUIT.

Resigned From Pennsylvania Senate to Assume Auditor Generalship.

Some Legislative Proceedings.

Harrisburg, May 8.—The order of business in the house Tuesday was senate bills on final passage. Among those passed was this one:

Fixing the salaries of county superintendents of schools at $10 for the first 100 schools within his jurisdiction, $5 for each school above 100, and not over 200 and $2 for each school above 200, provided that the salary shall in no case be less than $1,000 per annum nor more than $2,000, and provided further that in all counties having 12,000 square miles or a school term exceeding seven and a half months the salaries of the superintendents shall not be less than $1,500, and that a convention of school directors may vote him an increase in salary, which shall be taken from the school appropriation of the district.

The house adjourned, about 3 p.m., being the time selected to meet. After reconvening and transacting some business an adjournment was taken, about 8 p.m., being the time selected to meet. At the night session, among the senate bills passed finally, were these:

Providing for an extension of one year of the limitation of time within which application shall be made to the state treasurer for the refunding of collateral inheritance tax paid in error.

Authorizing county commissioners to erect or complete and maintain a monument at the seat of each county in memory of the soldiers and sailors of the late war, so as to authorize the commissioners to pay debts already contracted for and about the erection and maintenance of such a monument and for work done and material furnished.

The house adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

The senate met about 8 o'clock last night and held a brief session. The order of business was the consideration of bills on first and second reading. There were 14 bills on second reading and two on the first reading calendar, and after they had all been read and agreed to the senate adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

Just before the senate adjourned Senator Hardenbergh, of Wayne, who assumed the office of auditor general, sent his resignation and it was read. Mr. Hardenbergh made a brief farewell address, and others made addresses.

MORE SHELTER.

Hungry Fed at Jacksonville—No More Bodies Found—Systematic Search Not Begun.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 8.—The almost superhuman work of the different departments has somewhat relieved the situation and it is now believed that in every instance those without proper food and clothing were in a measure provided for, and that last night there was vastly fewer people who were compelled to sleep upon the streets.

About 200 tents were erected, and while they were very crowded last night and while several churches and school houses in the suburbs also were crowded with sleepers, this condition also may be relieved today by the arrival of about 2,000 tents from the general government at Washington, which Chairman Bours, of the housing committee, will have erected at once. The military companies have been of great assistance to Mr. Bours, with their experience in rapidly erecting tents, and before tonight there may be several tented villages in the city with cots and blankets, and a water supply in almost every village for the sufferers. Today there also may be provided several extra commissary stations in various parts of the city to relieve the situation at the two already established, and likely there may be one in each village of tents. There has been no outbreak of sickness in the city and the several cases of nervous prostration which have been reported are now well on the way to recovery.

Thousands of people have left the city. Those remaining will be able to receive some kind of labor at the bureaus which have been established.

The cleaning up of the streets has been going on rapidly. No more dead bodies were found, though a systematic search had not begun.

THE RED BORETTA.

Martinelli to Receive It Today, Cardinal Gibbons to Represent the Pope.

Baltimore, May 8.—Mgr. Sebastian Martinelli was to receive the red boretta this morning from Cardinal Gibbons, whom Pope Leo has appointed to represent him on that occasion. Monsignor Martinelli arrived yesterday afternoon from Washington. He went direct to St. Mary's seminary, where he is the guest of the Sulpician fathers.

Nearly all the prelates from out of town have arrived, among them Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, and Bishop Murray, of Queensland, Australia. It was expected that 12 of the 14 archbishops and 62 bishops would be present at today's ceremony, and each visiting prelate would be attended by at least one priest.

Last evening a musical and literary entertainment in honor of Mgr. Martinelli was given by the students of St. Mary's seminary. The cardinal-elect made a responsive address.

DEFENDED BLUE LAWS.

Clergymen Opposed Repeal of Features of the Pennsylvania Sunday Laws.

Harrisburg, May 8.—The senate committee on law and order gave a public hearing Tuesday afternoon on the bill repealing certain portions of the Sunday blue laws of 1794. Quite a large delegation of clergymen from different parts of the state was present and protested against the passage of the bill. A number of Philadelphia business men were also in attendance and advocated the repealer. After both sides had been fully heard, Senator Berkelbach, of Philadelphia, who introduced the bill, made a few remarks in defense of his action.

Republicans Carried Baltimore.

Baltimore, May 8.—In the municipal election in this city, the first one of importance held under the new ballot law, the Republicans carried 18 out of the 24 wards, electing 18 members to the first branch of city council and all three candidates for the second branch. Only about 65 per cent of the entire registered vote was polled and the colored vote was very light. Democrats attribute their defeat to factional differences.

China Will Require a Loan.

Pekin, May 8.—China will require the powers to obtain for her a loan sufficient to pay the indemnity as soon as the amount thereof is made known. She will also ask for an extra twenty million taels, to be provided annually according to the proposition of the foreign ministers.

COMPLAINTS BEING MADE.

West Enders Want the Pond on Ball Grounds Drained.

Complaints are already beginning to be filed with Health Officer Burgess by the residents of the West End, asking that the pond of water on the old ball grounds be drained and the low places filled up.

Frogs by the hundreds are making their headquarters in the slimy water, and the stench from the poisonous filth is very obnoxious to those who are forced to inhale the germ-breeding air predominating in that community. The health officer will likely take measures to have the pond drained.

FOR MOTHERS.

The period immediately following child-birth is fraught with many dangers. The strength has been used in the painful ordeal through which the mother has passed and she finds herself helpless and weakened. Many mothers, like Mrs. Ford, date the beginning of their illness from the birth of their child. Indeed the frequent spectacle of a healthy young woman becoming a chronic invalid after motherhood is one of the tragedies of life. All this is unnecessary, when Wine of Cardui is obtainable. It rehabilitates the shattered nervous system, strengthens the organs and ligaments, and re-establishes a healthy, natural condition, saving years of chronic sickness and suffering.

Wine of Cardui taken just before confinement will render the ordeal comparatively painless.

It will re-enforce and strengthen the organs for their work. For every trying crisis in a woman's life, Wine of Cardui is the medicine to take. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui and take no substitute. If one is offered send $1.00 for a bottle to the Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn.

WINE OF CARDUI

Clarkson, Ark., July 20, 1898.

After my baby was born I took the white and falling of the womb, and was in a very dangerous condition. I read one of your home treatment books, and commenced to treat myself with Wine of Cardui and Black Draught. I am thankful for what the "medicine" did for me, and I am now in better health than I have been for a long time.

THE SENATORIAL NOMINEES.

Not alone Columbiana county, but the entire district, is to be congratulated upon the work accomplished at the senatorial convention held at Steubenville on Tuesday. State Senator Frank B. Archer, who was nominated to succeed himself, has made a most excellent record in the legislature, while the other nominee, Attorney Charles C. Connell, of Lisbon, the unanimous choice of the Republican voters of Columbiana county for the second place, is equally capable of doing so. We are confident that when tried he will not be found wanting and that the interests of Columbiana county and the state of Ohio will receive earnest and thoughtful attention from him when he takes his seat in the upper house.

In a district, where, as here, a nomination is equivalent to an election, it is of the utmost importance that convention work be carefully and well done, and it is cause for thankfulness and satisfaction, both with the Republican party and with the people of the district generally, to know that no mistake was made in this instance. The convention was made up of sound Republicans and dispatched its work in a business-like manner. Enthusiasm prevailed, good speeches abounded, and everything said and done augured well for earnest work and complete success at the polls.

The convention acted wisely in pledging support to Senator Foraker for re-election to the high office he now holds. As a United States senator, Gen. Foraker has reflected honor upon his state and upon his party, and the Republicans are few and far apart, in this section of Ohio at least, who do not desire to see him returned to a position where he has rendered such excellent service both to state and to nation.

SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED.

The report that a Boston shoe firm is anxious to locate a factory here is one which should be thoroughly investigated by the board of trade and others interested in the welfare of the city. The desire of Bostonians or others to add to the number of our manufactories is one that should be encouraged. East Liverpool has demonstrated to the world that it is the ideal place for the manufacture of pottery, and should have no difficulty in proving that it is an equally good location for other branches of industry. Ours is too big a city to have all its eggs in one basket, to confine all its efforts to one line of effort, however profitable. Diversified industry is a safe foundation for prosperity. While neighboring cities are working constantly to gain that desideratum, East Liverpool should keep her eyes open and hold her hands ready to grasp whatever comes her way if it is worth securing.

NO MONOPOLY IN BANKING.

One of the wise measures passed by congress at its last session was a law intended to increase the banking facilities of the country. Under it only $25,000 capital is required for the establishment of a national bank. Five hundred and sixty-three applications for banks with less than $50,000 capital had been filed up to the close of last month. These banks are mainly in small towns, where money to invest is not as plentiful as in greater and richer communities, but where, nevertheless, a bank is a great public convenience, as well as a promoter of thrift and saving habits.

These small banks should end forever the tirades of Populistic orators and demagogues against banks and banking. When a community, by pooling its capital, can establish a bank for $25,000, that business ceases to be a monopoly. Banks will be established wherever they are needed, or wherever the investors can see a reasonable opportunity for profit. It has long been the practice with cheap politicians to decry the banker, though he generally stands among the leading citizens and is the first whose aid is asked and given to promote schemes for the welfare and benefit of the public. Now that men of limited capital can become bankers if they wish, this senseless rant should cease.

If the Pennsylvania capitol is to be carried to one of the extreme limits of the state, why not bring it to Hookstown? As a quiet, orderly village, even Philadelphia can claim no advantages over it. Its moral atmosphere is just the sort the solons need. Why is Hookstown so backward in advertising its claims?

Provisions by the trainload and by the shipload and cash by the tens of thousands of dollars, all hurrying toward the suffering city of Jacksonville, show a national trait of sympathy and generosity toward the afflicted that should make every American proud of his country.

The physicians of Count Boni di Castellane are making a heroic effort to prolong his useless life. Their excuse is that they are paid for the work.

He was a member of the society of Friends. He is survived by his wife, formerly Hannah Butler and a son, Chester, and daughter, Elizabeth T., both of whom are grown and live at home. Miss Lloyd taught in the Damascus academy some years ago, and later acted as assistant principal at the academy at Plainfield, Ind.

Mrs. Angus Noble.

Wellsville, May 8.—Mrs. Agnes Noble, wife of Dr. Angus Noble, died yesterday. Her maiden name was Sampson and she was born near Cooncopolis, Pa., in 1848. She is survived by her husband and four children. Mrs. Noble was prominent in church work.

DIDN'T STAY LONG.

RICHARD GRAY'S WIFE WENT BACK TO HER OLD HOME.

The Reunion of the Long Separated Couple Only a Brief One.

The pathetic meeting of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gray, which was brought about through the efforts of the city officers, after the husband and wife wife had been separated several months, seems to have been about as short as it was sweet.

According to a story which has reached the mayor's office, Gray has given his wife the "cold shoulder," although the unsuspecting woman has been led to believe that she is yet the idol of her husband's heart. Mrs. Gray, who has been making her home at Parkersburg, sold all her household goods and came to this city for the purpose of staying here permanently.

However, notwithstanding his evident delight over this arrangement, it was far from being to the husband's liking that his better half should remain here. After a protracted visit amounting to two days, Mrs. Gray is back at her Parkersburg home, while Mr. Gray is still holding the fort in East Liverpool.

Before boarding the boat which carried her away, Mrs. Gray sat on the depot platform with needle and thread in her hand, and sewed buttons on a pair of her husband's trousers, thus proving that her devotion for him was as strong as ever. Mayor Daure the husband is said to have taken up with another woman. Mayor Davidson has been appealed to by a number of women who are indignant. He refused to take any action unless an affidavit was filed.

FOUR QUIT WORK.

Warehousemen Claimed They Were Not Fairly Treated And Threw Up Their Jobs.

Leroy Aley, John Fowler, Carl Weaver and Charles Kennedy, who have been employed in the warehouse at the Laughlin No. 2 pottery, quit work yesterday. There are 11 men in the warehouse, five of whom reside in the city proper and the rest in the East End.

Three weeks ago last Monday the Ohio was so high that street cars and trains could not run and these four men refused to walk to work, but the fifth man walked up. When they reported for duty on Tuesday morning Weaver says he was given his two weeks' notice. The other men asked the reason for his discharge, and they were informed that it was for not reporting on Monday. They did not think this was fair and handed in their time, which expired yesterday.

SOUTH SIDE.*CHESTER ELECTION

THE NEW TOWN CHOOSES A FULL SET OF OFFICERS.

Dunn Is Elected Mayor And Marshall Recorder—Few Illegal Ballots.

Last evening at sundown the polls closed at the first municipal election ever held in Chester. The total vote cast was 139. Seven of these were thrown out because they were found illegally marked when the ballots were counted.

Everything was unusually quiet at the polls, although it was apparent that the different candidates, who all tried to assume an indifferent air, were deeply interested. Only two attempts to vote illegally were made, and these were promptly challenged and the challenges sustained. An anxious crowd waited at the voting place last night until the result was announced. It was as follows:

For Mayor—Robert Dunn, 85; Alex Pugh, 43; B. I. Hilliard, 7.

For Recorder—John J. Marshall, 53; Thomas Bambrick, 51; Frank Huff, 33.

For Council—Joseph N. Finley, 94; J. A. McDonald, 93; J. S. Cochran, 88; W. H. Riley, 81; G. A. Arner, 63; S. N. Severs, 62; R. S. McGlumphry, 58; J. C. Calhoun, 51; R. G. Mercer, 39; J. T. Neville, 17.

Central Committee—John Gardner, Fred St. Clair, Enoch Riley, Thomas Croxall.

As shown by the above figures the officers elected were as follows: Mayor, Robert Dunn; recorder, John J. Marshall; councilmen, Joseph N. Finley, J. A. McDonald, J. S. Cochran, W. H. Riley, G. A. Arner.

Joseph N. Finley, for council, polled the highest vote of any man on the ticket, while B. I. Hilliard, for mayor, polled the lowest.

The result of the election was generally satisfactory.

It seems to be pretty well understood that Harm Allison, who is now serving as constable, will be appointed chief of police. Thus far there are no other aspirants for the position.

With a complete municipal government and under the wise administration of the officers chosen, no doubt Chester will prosper and grow.

Mayor Dunn's New Job.

Robert Dunn, who was chosen mayor of Chester yesterday, has accepted a position as motorman on the South-side line. He began work this afternoon.

IMPROVEMENTS BEGUN.

Mayor And Chief Are Hurrying Up House Cleaning at City Hall.

The work of remodeling the city hall "waiting room" was begun Tuesday afternoon by Mayor Davidson and Chief Thompson. All of the old paper that could be torn loose from the walls was taken off in preparation for the new coating of a more modern kind of paper. The selection was made by the mayor and marshal after a full week's deliberation.

A new door will be cut through the wall at the northwest corner of the room. This will be an improvement, the need of which has long been felt at police headquarters.

TO WED THIS EVENING.

Benjamin Hodgson And Stella Campbell Will Be Made One.

There will be 1,081 delegates at the Republican state convention, the largest number in the history of the state. On the basis of one delegate to every 500 votes cast for McKinley, Columbiana county with 10,255 votes is entitled to 21 delegates; Stark county with 13,165 votes, 26 delegates, and Mahoning county with 8,939 votes 18 delegates, a total of 65 delegates for the Eighteenth district. The Laughlin boys are willing to play for glory, but "just to make it interesting," they have $25 or $50 in their coffers, which they are willing to wager that they can best any team that can be produced by any of the towns above named.

A Second Street Man Alleged to Have Assailed His Wife—Police Watching Him.

A resident of Second street is alleged to have assaulted his wife Tuesday night. The woman's face is badly cut and bruised as the result of being struck with a barrel stave, which, she claims, her husband used. The police have been notified and the man is being closely watched.

It is said that neighbors are making an effort to have the husband arrested and sent away from the city. A petition is being circulated and has already been signed by a number of women. The paper will be presented to the mayor.

Prince Nicholas of Montenegro, father of the queen of Italy, is a poet and dramatic author as well as a soldier.

Of the English royal family within 200 years William III, Anne, the four Georges, a Duchess of Kent, the prince consort and Princess Alice each died on a Saturday.

Sultan Abdul Hamid II has excluded Baedeker's "Guide to Palestine" from his dominions owing to certain criticisms it contains of the political and social conditions now prevailing in the Holy Land.

King Edward has expressed a preference for one very popular hymn. Six years ago he directed a letter to be written, stating that among hymns of a certain kind he thought there was "none more touching nor one that goes more truly to the heart than 'Nearer, My God, to Thee.'

The Duke of Cambridge, who completed his eighty-second year on March 26, is the first member of the English royal family in modern time to attain that age. Queen Victoria, the Duchess of Gloucester and George III all attained the age of 81, but died before attaining the age of 82.

Leaders of Capital and Labor Tell How to Keep Peace and Prosperity.

CONCILIATION THEIR THEME

Bishop Potter Expressed Gratification at Growth of Spirit of Conciliation. Mitchell and Gompers Declare For Honorable Peace—Others Talked.

New York, May 8.—Conciliation as a means of maintaining industrial peace between labor and capital was discussed by leaders of unionism and finance at the chamber of commerce. The meeting was arranged by the industrial department of the National Civic Federation. The speakers were Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Bishop Potter, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Charles R. Flint, president of the American Rubber company; Daniel J. Keefe, of the Illinois board of arbitration; William H. Sayward, of the National Association of Builders; James O'Connell, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Herman Justi, commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' association.

Without Sacrificing Manhood.

Samuel Gompers presided, and in opening the meeting expressed the hope that a new epoch had come in the relations of labor and capital. "We want industrial peace, but not at the sacrifice of any of the elements of manhood," he said. "The increased growth in the organization of labor has brought greater responsibilities. The work is going ahead actively, however, and we are meeting our problems in a practical way. We are dealing with living men, and living women, and living children in the hope of better things for all. The laboring people insist that they be regarded as something more than wage earners. They are men with rights and hopes and aspirations and love." He expressed the belief that the plan of conciliation should be aided by every man who was against strife and for peace. He said that the unions sought to do injustice to no man, but were formed to conserve the rights of those who formed them.

Bishop Potter expressed his gratification at the growth of the spirit of conciliation. He noted a growth of intelligence and openmindedness among workmen, and said that upon it could be built the highest hope for the future. He added that at the same time there was a greater interest manifested on the part of employers in the lives and conditions of their men. He praised the humanity of American diplomacy in China and said that it offered a splendid example for emulation. "If you rise to this opportunity," he said, "you will set the world another example that it will be your privilege to remember with pride all of your lives."

John Mitchell said that he was for peace because he had known the bruses of war. "The relations of labor and capital," he said, "are purely a business proposition. There is no sentiment in it. Peace is better for both, and I am for peace if we can have an honorable peace. I believe there never would be strikes if the employers and employees could meet in fairness. If we could have got a hearing last year the great coal strike would have been averted." He said the public was a party to every strike and should be consulted. He hoped that the chamber of commerce of New York would lend its mighty aid to the conciliation plan.

Charles R. Flint, the capitalist, was humorously introduced as the walking delegate of the American Rubber company, who worked 14 hours a day. He expressed his confidence in the good that would come of closer relationship between labor and capital. He exhaustively reviewed the export trade of the country and the accomplishments of the skilled American laborer, and said that in this greatest industrial evolution the world had ever known there was no room for strife between American labor and American capital.

Daniel J. Keefe said that conciliation was more acceptable than arbitration, for in the latter system there had to be a decision defeating one side or the other.

Both Should Act Squarely.

William H. Sayward supported Mitchell's contention that the relation of the two great industrial forces was purely of a business nature. He said the laborer did not want sympathy, but good, square treatment, and when he got it he generally returned good, square treatment. He believed that employers should meet their men in a greater spirit of frankness.

James O'Connell said that in the metal trades employers and toilers had learned the benefits of organization and mutual concessions. He was sure the conciliation movement would do great good.

Herman Justi said in commencing: "Under the old dispensation employer and toiler sought for differences; under the new dispensation they seek points of agreement." He related the experience in Illinois with a policy of conciliation and said that it had worked excellently. "I hope this is the beginning of a great movement. Our national prosperity depends upon the steady employment of every wage earner at a decent wage, and I believe every employer in the country with a heart in his breast or a brain in his head knows it."

Samuel Gompers, in closing, said that the thorough organization of labor presaged complete protection for the honest employer against his dishonest competitor who "nibbled" at prices.

OLD BOILER EXPLODED.

Distillery and Saw Mill Blown to Pieces—2 Killed; 2 Injured.

Uniontown, Pa., May 8.—A saw mill and a distillery were blown to pieces. Two men lost their lives and two more were dangerously injured, because the owner, who was one of those killed, persisted, it is said, in using a boiler that was unsafe. The accident occurred at the old "Czar Hart" distillery in Southern Fayette county, near the West Virginia line in the mountain district. The list of victims follows:

Ezra Thomas, aged 46 years, owner of the property, killed; leaves a wife and two sons.

Frank Fearer, aged 27, employed at the distillery, killed; leaves a wife and two children.

Frank Thomas, a son of Ezra Thomas, bruised, burned and cut about the head.

William Dennis, an employe, hip bruised, shoulder dislocated and cut about the head.

VANDERBILT SECURES CONTROL.

Asserted That He Won in Fight For the Union Pacific.

New York, May 8.—The Mail and Express said yesterday:

"There is excellent authority for the statement that William K. Vanderbilt has carried the day in the contest for the control of the Union Pacific railroad, and that he intends to put through his plan for annexing it to the Vanderbilt system.

"His idea is that it shall be controlled by the Chicago and Northwestern and New York Central jointly, with a guarantee of 6 per cent on Union Pacific common stock and possibly an exchange of 3 per cent bonds, issued jointly by the Northwestern and New York Central, in exchange for Union Pacific common stock. There may, however, be some change in this last feature."

GATES LOCKED.

Citizens Complain That Spring Grove Cemetery Is Closed of Evenings.

At this time of the year the people always commence to fix up the graves of relatives, and as a rule, they take the cool of the evening, but it is impossible for them to enter the Spring Grove cemetery, as the gates are all locked and they are unable to get in. A prominent resident of the city, in speaking of the matter yesterday, said:

"Mr. Myler, who has charge of the cemetery, remains there during the day, but in the evening he leaves and locks all the gates. There are a large number of the people of the city who work during the day and have no chance to get there before 6 or 7 o'clock, and when they arrive they find they had their trip for nothing, as they are unable to get in. It would not be quite so bad if there was any place along the road where they could hitch their horses, as they could climb the fence, but this is not to be had. I for one think Mr. Myler could remain a little later in the evenings and accommodate the people."

IN CALIFORNIA TODAY

ARIZONANS ASK STATEHOOD

At Indian School Indian Maiden Pleads With a Supposed Uncle Sam For Admission, While a Band Played Hail Columbia—Nice Reception.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 8.—About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the presidential party resumed its journey. The departure was so timed that the Colorado desert and old basin of the Gulf of California below sea level and barren of all vegetation would be traversed during the night. Redlands, Cal., the first stop, it was expected, would be reached about 9 a.m. today.

Interesting Day In Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 8.—The presidential party spent an interesting day in Arizona Tuesday. The beautiful turquoise sky, bright sunshine and invigorating air afforded the party much relief after the hot and dusty ride of Monday. About two hours in the morning at the Congress gold mine, up in the clouds of the Blue Tank mountains, were replete with incidents, and were thoroughly enjoyed. A large American flag was draped across the tunnel through which the president passed and after he emerged he told the little group of miners who congregated about the train that he had seen Old Glory floating from tower and state house and warship in many different places, but that never before during his life had he seen the American flag 1,500 feet under ground. Leaving the rich mining section in the mountains 4,000 feet above sea level, the train dropped down into the green Salt river valley, with its waving alfalfa meadows and big herds of cattle. This valley is called the garden spot of Arizona and was re-claimed by irrigation. Monday, passing through New Mexico, and Tuesday in Arizona, the cow punchers at the stops along the route inquired vociferously where "Teddy" was.

Cole, James and "Bob" Younger have been in Stillwater since 1876 for the Northfield (Minn.) bank robbery and the murder committed during that raid, in which they participated with the James gang. The James brothers, Jesse and Frank, escaped to Missouri. Two members of the gang were killed and Bob Younger died in prison. Owing to the peculiar circumstances surrounding the capture of the Youngers efforts have been unceasing to obtain their pardon. They might have escaped at the time, but remained behind to care for one of the gang who was mortally wounded, and whom, it is said, the others favored killing.

Entire City Feted a Pastor.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 8.—The Rev. L. Merrill Miller, D. D., hale and hearty at 82, completed his fiftieth year as pastor of the Presbyterian church, Ogdensburg, and the city, without regard to creed, joined in a three days' jubilee celebration in recognition of his services. During his pastorate he solemnized 1,885 marriages, officiated at 1,458 funerals, received 1,363 members into his church, and preached 9,078 sermons.

SOME CURIOUS CHURCHES.

Congregations Which Meet In Inns, Windmills and Boats.

A public house is one of the last places one would expect to be used as a place of worship. The inhabitants of Twyford, a village near Winchester, would not consider this at all a novelty, because for several years past the Phoenix inn has been used Sunday for religious purposes. The room in which the religious services are held will comfortably hold about 200 people and opens at the back on to a pretty tea garden. The most remarkable feature of the services is that they are often conducted while the public house is open for business purposes, and the customers can join in the singing if they are so disposed.

There are two or three instances of public houses which have been converted into churches, and there are also two or three theaters which are now places of worship. The Fen district possesses a canalboat church. There are a large number of people who live some distance away from any church, and the canalboat church travels from place to place for the benefit of such folk. The boat will seat a congregation of about 100.

The old chapel of ease at Tunbridge Wells has a unique situation. It stands in two counties and three parishes.

When the clergyman leaves the vestry, he comes out of the parish of Frant of Sussex. If he is going to officiate at the altar, he walks into the parish of Tunbridge, in Kent. If, on the other hand, he is going to preach the sermon, he walks from the parish of Frant to the parish of Speldhurst on his way to the pulpit.

The chapel at Milton Bryant is situated in the village pond. The reason for the selection of this strange site was because no landowner would grant any other position.

The "windmill" church near Relgate is familiar to London cyclists. Not so familiar is the underground church at Brighton. Owing to some "ancient lights" difficulty, the authorities could not "build up," and as the site was a good one they decided to "build down."

USING HIS WITS.

Showing How People May Be Guided by Inference.

"You see," said the man with the bulging forehead and prominent nose, "if people would only be guided more by inference it would save lots of useless trouble."

"I don't understand you," said the man who had been tickling a pimple on his chin.

"Why, for instance, I passed a frozen pond one winter day. On the ice I saw a pair of skates, a boy's cap and a mitten. Out in the middle of the pond the ice was broken. Did I jump to the conclusion that a boy had been drowned and raise a great hullabaloo about it?"

"Of course you did, or else you ought to be prosecuted. You don't mean to say you passed on and said nothing?"

"I do," calmly replied the man of the forehead. "I inferred instead of jumping to a false conclusion."

"But you had to infer that the boy was under the ice," protested the other.

"Not a bit of it. If the boy had fallen in, the skates and cap and mittens would have gone with him. I simply inferred that he had seen a rabbit and given chase. I was right too. In the course of five minutes I met him on the road."

"Oh, you did! And maybe you inferred something else."

"Of course I did. As he had the nosebleed, I inferred that he had fallen over a log in the chase and got left, and he admitted that such was the case."

"Then you ought to have wound up

the performance by inferring whether it was a male or female rabbit."

"It wasn't necessary, my captious friend. As I passed on I found the rabbit, dead from overexertion, and it was a male."—Washington Post.

The Clothes Moth.

We may marvel at grubs growing fat and succulent upon such unpromising fare as old timber affords, but that achievement is improved upon by the insects that prefer to draw their entire nutrition from woolen fabrics, fur, horsehair, feathers, tanned leather and the like and apparently without ever a desire to "wet their whistles" by anything of a juicy nature. Any small, silvery winged moth that is seen flitting about the house is regarded as a "clothes moth," but every one killed is not an enemy, for there are a number of moths of similar size and appearance that come from outdoors and have been occupied as grubs in destroying green leaves. It is a common error to suppose that it is the clothes moth that does the mischief, though by destroying the moth we prevent the laying of innumerable eggs from which come the consuming larvae, whose cutting jaws would be actively and incessantly employed in mutilating choice fabrics and valuable furs. These caterpillars are rarely seen by the housewife because their first care on leaving the egg is to disguise or hide themselves.

The clothes moth proper has yellowish gray wings, with three or four indefinite brownish spots upon them, and in consequence of its marked preference for furs it is known to science as Tineo pellionella.—Good Words.

A Common Freak.

When P. T. Barnum was in the museum business in New York, one of his most joyful friends was Gaylord Clark, a famous litterateur in the days of our fathers. They were a well matched pair of practical jokers. One day when Mr. Clark dropped in at the museum, as was his custom, Mr. Barnum, apparently much excited, hurried his friend into the private office and said: "Gaylord, I was about to send for you. I want your advice. I have a chance to purchase the most wonderful of all zoological freaks. It's at first a perfect fish, then it changes to a four legged land animal, then it climbs trees and"—

"Bah! You're joking," interjected Mr. Clark.

"On my honor I am not," impressively replied the showman. "But the expense."

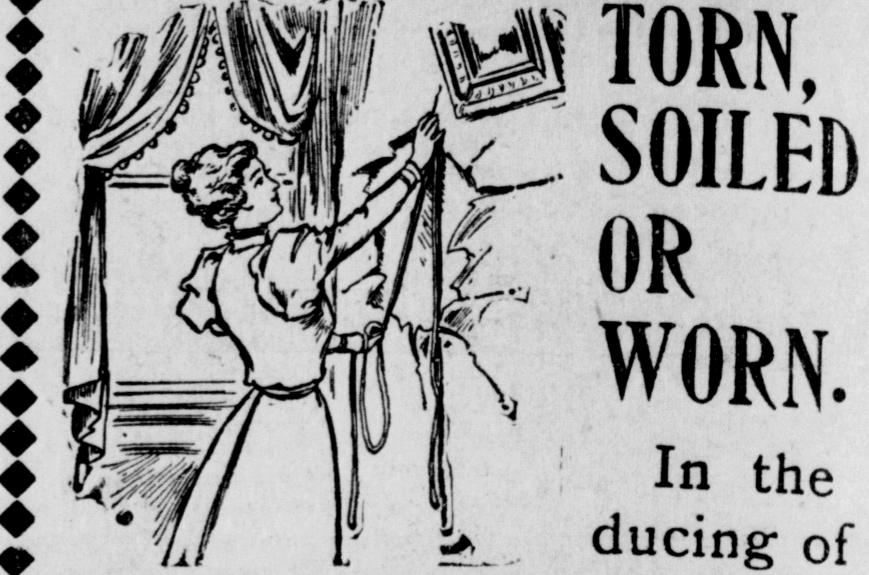

"Oh, hang the expense," interrupted Mr. Clark, brimful of enthusiasm over the business project of his friend. "If you can get any such freak as that, your fortune's made. But what's the thing called?"

"Well," replied Mr. Barnum, with just the faintest suggestion of a twinkle in his left eye, "it belongs to the batrachian family of animals and in the vernacular is called the—the—tadpole!"
